OKTOBERFEST-BOUND—The 115-member Teays Valley High School Marching Band practices the show they will use Saturday from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Oktoberfest, a traditional German festival held yearly at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. The Band, under the direction of Duane Corbett, will be the first marching unit to ever appear at the festival, which runs from 5 p.m. Thursday to Sunday night. The Teays Valley Band Boosters will have a refreshment booth at the Oktoberfest, which will also feature one of the largest Arts and Crafts shows in the area.

Food Prices Show Fluctuation

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

Consumers got a bit of a break at the grocery store during September, an Associated Press marketbasket shows. But higher prices for coffee, butter, eggs and pork wiped out most of the savings on beef and sugar.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

During September, the marketbasket total at the checklist store increased in six cities, up an average of 3.7 per cent, and decreased in seven cities, down an average of 2.6 per cent. Over-all, the bill at the start of October was three-tenths of a per cent more than it was a month earlier.

During both July and August, the marketbasket bill was up at the checklist store in 10 cities and declined in only three, indicating some improvement last month.

The price fluctuations generally reflected changes at the farm and wholesale levels.

At the farm level, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said Tuesday that prices paid to farmers rose 3 per cent from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15 after remaining steady the month before. The increase was due mainly to higher prices for milk, beef cattle, eggs, pork and wheat.

Frost in Brazil damaged much of the coffee crop that would have been harvested next year. That drove up the cost of coffee beans now available and manufacturers started raising wholesale prices.

The wholesale boosts took a while to filter through to the retail level, however, because many stores offer coffee as a loss leader to get buyers into their outlets. Manufacturers, promotion offers to supermarkets also helped keep prices down for consumers.

During September, however, the price of a one-pound can of coffee went up at the checklist store in eight of the 13 cities surveyed, rising an average of 13 per cent. The biggest increase came in Providence, R.I., where a one-pound can went from $1.28 to $1.59, up 24 per cent. Coffee was unchanged at the checklist store in four cities and was not available in the specified size at the survey store in the 13th city.

Helping offset the increases on coffee and other items were lower prices for beef and sugar.

Sugar prices, which soared to record levels last December, then started declining, had been rising during the summer, reflecting an increase in the price of raw sugar. The raw sugar price went down again; refiners charged grocery stores less; and retail prices dropped. The AP survey showed the price of a five-pound sack of granulated sugar declined during September at the checklist store in 11 cities. The average decrease was 10 per cent.

Amnesty International, the private organization which works to improve the lot of political prisoners, charged that at least 250 Basques had been tortured systematically during May, June and July. Washington lawyer Thomas Jones, who led an Amnesty investigation mission to Spain, said the information came from interviews with 45 persons who were tortured, lawyers whose clients were tortured and from witnesses to the tortures.

The anger abroad was cooling, but terrorist action in Spain was certain to continue. Since January 1974, 20 policemen have been killed by terrorists and 14 civilians have died. In addition to the three men killed today, a policeman died Tuesday of wounds suffered in the robbery of $600,000 from a government office in Barcelona Monday. The police blame the robbery on ETA, the Basque underground.

Terrorists Slay Police In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Terrorists shot and killed three policemen and gravely injured a fourth in Madrid today a few hours before more than 300,000 Spaniards roared their support for Generalissimo Francisco Franco waving to them from the balcony of the National Palace.

The four coordinated attacks by one or two gunmen on isolated policemen on guard duty signaled bloody defiance of Western Europe's only remaining dictator on the 39th anniversary of Franco's rebellion against democracy at the start of the Spanish civil war.

The shots were fired within 15 minutes of each other and four days to the hour after Franco's firing squads executed five terrorists and set off a torrent of foreign protests.

The attacks occurred on three sides of Madrid, in the northern, eastern and southern parts of the Spanish capital. But there was none in the western part, where the National Palace is located.

One policeman on duty outside a bank in east Madrid was killed instantly. Two others died from their wounds later in the morning.

All the gunmen escaped.

The government declared a holiday for all factories, schools, shops and offices. Youths in cars and on motorbikes toured the capital and other large cities Tuesday night to whip up enthusiasm.

Unusual Hog Of Both Sexes

RUSSIA, Ohio (AP) — Hog farmer Ronald Albers isn't sure what he's got.

He suspects a pig born this summer is a hermaphrodite, an animal having male and female reproductive organs. "I don't know what would happen if you would breed the thing, or if it even could be bred," said Albers, 37.

He thought the 3-month-old York might die when it was younger, "but now he (Alber refers to the animal as a male) is just as normal as any other hog in eating and getting around."

"I don't know what I am going to do with it, to tell the truth about it, because I don't know what it would be good for."

An agriculture extension agent and animal genetics professor agreed that hermaphrodites are rare and usually incomplete in development of both organs.

Board Of Health Wants Additional Screening In Wake Of TB Increase

By DAVE AMEY
Herald City Editor

What appears to be a sharp increase in the incidence of tuberculosis (TB) in Pickaway County has prompted the Board of Health to order a probe of possibilities of conducting mass screenings for the disease among personnel of industries, traditionally the largest employers in the area.

"There seems to be a lot of the disease in the county," Health Nurse Linda Davis told members of the Board of Health during monthly session Tuesday. The county department treated 10 persons active for TB since last October, four more than Franklin County with its larger population mass.

The board ordered Health Department personnel to attempt to implement a program with industries even though most offer excellent internal health and health screening facilities.

The problem, according to Health Commissioner Dr. Frank Moore, is that TB goes undetected, for the most part, if the patient has no health records to accompany chest X-Rays.

It apparently resembles congestive diseases on the X-Rays.

While most industrial health facilities take X-Rays and perform perfunctory health examinations of all employees, the health nurses have found no evidence to substantiate the testing.

Several years ago, they said, the Ross County Health department investigated a local industry for signs of the disease and found 20 positive reactors to TB serum. A positive reaction means the person has been exposed to TB.

Two drugs have apparently been marketed that stop the threat of active TB in positive reactors. Patients must receive the serum in the early stages of disease incubation.

The drugs, however, have proved costly and have "greatly depleted" the TB drug purchase fund, which was built up by a county-wide tax levy.

Acting on the recommendation of Dr. Moore, the Board agreed to purchase the drugs from the Ross County Board of Health, which buys in quantity from a reputable pharmaceutical firm.

The savings, from buying on the open market as was the practice, will result in about twice as much serum for the same money.

Natural Gas Deregulation Up For Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is nearing a vote that could determine whether Americans will have adequate natural gas and how many more billions of dollars they will have to pay for it.

The Senate arranged a vote this afternoon on an amendment by Sen. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., that would remove federal controls from the price of virtually all U.S. natural gas immediately. The proposal is expected to fail, but it could indicate how many senators are willing to let prices climb.

The dispute over the government's role in natural-gas pricing is the latest energy-policy battle between Congress and President Ford.

There is wide agreement that natural gas, which heats 55 per cent of U.S. homes, will cost more in the future and on the need to avert any gas shortage this winter, mainly in 14 Eastern states.

Senate Democrats want to solve that problem before tackling the complex issue of longrange pricing of natural gas. But Republicans and gas-state senators, fearing Congress won't want to act once the emergency is averted, are trying to force the long-range question onto any emergency bill.

Republicans have a second proposal that would phase out price controls over a period of years. The Democrats are standing by with their own long-range solutions which, instead of removing price controls, would extend them to gas that now is free of controls.

There are indications that one or two votes could determine whether the Democrats or Republicans will prevail on the long-range question.

The two sides also disagree on how to handle the threatened shortage of gas this winter. Again, price is the problem.

The Democrats, led by Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., want to allow gas-short pipelines, through next June 30, to buy gas directly from the producing states—mainly Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma—for about $1.25 per unit. That is almost 150 per cent above the current price.

Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., in a solution endorsed by Ford, would allow such purchases but without any price ceiling at all.

The Federal Power Commission says either approach would allow the diversion of enough gas to reduce the expected shortage to the manageable levels of 1974.

Guild Pledges $22,000 To Berger ER

The General Guild of Berger Hospital pledged $22,000 to be used for the purchase of emergency room equipment for the new facility Tuesday.

The pledge was made on the recommendation of Charles Rideout, hospital administrator. At the request of the executive board of the general guild, Rideout was a guest at the meeting. He outlined a need for financial assistance for emergency room equipment for the new hospital ancillary facility. The new wing will be open for use on or before Dec. 31.

Rideout also stated a need for funds for re-decorating some patient rooms in the older section of the present hospital. He further stated that it is his opinion that both of these projects are directly related to patient care.

With a roll call vote of the members present at the meeting, it was approved that the General Guild support the emergency room project.

After a lengthy discussion regarding the re-decorating the members were asked to return to their respective guilds with the information which had been presented and be prepared to vote on the proposal for the use of other existing funds at a special meeting to be held the latter part of October.

Note was also made of the fact that the Polles will be held April 8, 9, 10 of 1976 instead of the usual March dates.

All guilds were reminded of the upcoming Hospital Bazaar to be held Nov. 14 at Lutheran Parish Hall on East Mound Street. It was announced that hot lunches will be discontinued at the Bazaar this year in favor of sandwiches.

The Gift Shop Guild will hold its Gift Shop Bazaar Nov. 6-7 in St. Philip's Parish Hall located on West Mound Street.

At the close of the meeting Rideout invited all guilds to contact him for tours of the new ancillary wing.

Major Earthquake Hits In Or Near Sumatra, Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Meteorological Department in Jakarta recorded a large earthquake centered at Bengkulu on the southern coast of Sumatra, 300 miles northwest of Jakarta, today. There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The department said the earthquake's magnitude was 5.8 on the open-ended Richter scale, meaning considerable damage was possible in populated areas.

The U.S. Geological Survey earlier reported measuring a force of 7.0 for the quake in Sumatra, meaning widespread, heavy damage was possible.

The Survey, at Golden, Colo., said the quake occurred at about 11:30 p.m. EDT Tuesday, or at about 10:30 a.m. today Sumatra time.

The earthquake is at least the sixth one of magnitude 7.0 to have occurred in the world this year and is large enough to cause significant damages in heavily populated areas, the survey said.

The exact location of the quake is unknown, but a survey spokesman said that the city of Padang and the Mentawai Islands, are near the quake area. He described the area as "highly seismic."

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number, say from magnitude 5.5 to magnitude 6.5, means the ground motion is 10 times greater. Some experts say the actual amount of energy released may be 30 times greater.

In populated areas, an earthquake of 3.5 on the scale can cause slight damage in the local area, 4 can cause moderate damage, 5 considerable damage, 6 can be severe. A 7 reading is a "major" earthquake capable of widespread, heavy damage; 8 is a "great" earthquake capable of tremendous damage. The great San Francisco earthquake of 1906 registered 8.3 on the Richter scale.

DEER Creek Reservoir has been stocked with 70,000 catfish fingerlings ranging from 2 to 5 inches in length provided by the Senecaville National Fish Hatchery. Two million walleye fry were stocked last spring.

The purpose of the stocking is to provide good fishing at Deercreek Reservoir in the future.

Stockings in Deer Creek Reservoir in the past have resulted in good survival and growth, but the annual 14-foot winter drawdowns for flood control purposes and construction have resulted in tremendous losses of game fish from the reservoir to the tailwater area with few game fish remaining in the reservoir.

Grocery Bills In Indiana Dip

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — September grocery bills in Indiana declined an average 2 per cent, according to the Associated Press marketbasket survey.

Decreases were found in costs of onions, flour, sugar and meats. It was the second straight month the market-basket showed a decline. In August, figures dipped nearly 3 per cent.

Prices of 13 commonly purchased food items were checked at specific supermarkets in seven cities.

Expectations of higher prices on coffee and dairy products proved true, and economists said there might be still more increases.

Weather

Partly cloudy and cooler today, tonight and Thursday with a chance of showers. Temperatures will be in the lower 40s tonight and upper 50s Thursday. 30 per cent chance of rain tonight and 20 per cent Thursday. Temperatures Tuesday were: high, 75; low, 53.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today, propped up by some tentative bargain hunting after the sharp declines of the past two trading days.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.01 at 795.89 after a 24.72-point slide in the week's first two sessions. But gainers trailed losers by about a 5-4 margin in the overall count on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers traced the cautious buying to anticipation by some technically inclined investors that the Dow would hold in the low 790s—a point from which it rebounded late in August and again two weeks ago.

Texaco was the most active issue on the Big Board, unchanged at 23½. A 100,000-share block of the stock traded at 23¼.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index slipped .13 to 83.01.

The NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common stocks advanced .11 to 44.60.

Circle K Corp., the Amex volume leader, was unchanged at 5.

Bailey Sees Hearst Defense Shaping Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "They tell me I am going to have to pull a rabbit out of a hat" to defend Patricia Hearst successfully against federal bank robbery charges, says attorney F. Lee Bailey.

But the flamboyant Boston attorney who has defended such clients as Jack Ruby and Capt. Ernest Medina said Tuesday, "That's not my impression. I've never seen anyone pull a rabbit out of a hat to win a case. I don't know how to pull a rabbit out of a hat."

Bailey said it "won't be an insurmountable task" to obtain a fair trial for Miss Hearst and that defending her will not be an impossible job.

He said he did not yet know what the basis of Miss Hearst's defense will be, but "obviously, the state of mind of the defendant will be a big issue in the trial."

Bailey said he wanted to determine whether the 21-year-old newspaper heiress is competent to cooperate in her own defense.

"This involves her ability to communicate," he said.

Two other members of the defense team, Terence Hallinan and John Knutson, said in court papers Tuesday that Miss Hearst was "vacillating in her attitude toward her parents and lawyers" and was impatient during discussions of her legal case.

"She would sometimes sit for several minutes staring straight ahead, ignoring questions that were put to her," they said in a document labeled "a preliminary statement of our concept of Patty Hearst's mental and emotional condition."

President Pledges To Visit Every State Before Election

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP) — President Ford, pledging to continue two-way contact with the people "by every prudent and practical means," says he expects to visit by the end of the year the 11 states he has not seen as President.

Actually, Ford told a Republican fund-raising dinner in nearby Chicago Tuesday night that he still had 12 states to go before visiting all 50. However, aides later said his speechwriters made a mistake and that he has already visited 39 of the 50 states.

Now in the midst of a two-day Mid-western swing marked by stringent security precautions, Ford invited about 30 small-town mayors from Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin to meet with him here this morning before he flies to his native Omaha, Neb., for a White House-

Rhodes Signs Fair Trade Repealer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law Tuesday a bill repealing Ohio's depression-era Fair Trade law that allowed manufacturers to set minimum retail prices on a variety of products.

With the Dec. 30 effective date, Ohio will become the 19th state to eliminate the price maintenance statutes, originally enacted to give small dealers equal footing with large scale operations.

Representatives of small businesses mounted opposition to the repeal which drew support from consumers groups.

The bill passed the Senate 31-0 on Sept. 10.

Supporters, such as Sen. William F. Bowen, D-9 Cincinnati, said Ohioans were forced to pay 19 to 27 per cent more for fair trade items than shoppers in states without the laws.

The Ohio law, written in 1939 and updated in 1959, applied to many major appliances and other products including cosmetics, mattresses, garden and hardware supplies, jewelry and patent medicine.

Repeal was sponsored by Rep. Michael P. Stintiano, D-30 Columbus.

Rhodes also approved legislation authorizing municipal governments to lower speed limits from 25 mph to 35 mph on through highways in residential districts. The localities are required to erect stop signs or other traffic control devices before taking the action.

London Hostages Still Being Held

LONDON (AP) — One of six Italian hostages held by gunmen in the stifling basement storeroom of a London restaurant since Sunday has collapsed, but his captors refuse to let him go, police reported today.

The three gunmen repeated their demand for a plane to fly them to the West Indies, but Police Commissioner Sir Robert Mark refused to make any deals.

"They are criminals and they will come out under arrest," he told newsmen as the siege of the Spaghetti House restaurant went into its fourth day.

The gunmen made a medical check on the ailing hostage under the direction of a police doctor speaking through the steel door of the 10-by-12-foot storeroom.

The attorneys said Miss Hearst, who underwent four hours of testing by court-appointed psychiatrist Dr. Donald Lunde at Stanford University on Tuesday, may be on the verge of a nervous breakdown and "seemed to have no idea of the gravity of her position."

Bailey said he and U.S. Atty. James L. Browning had agreed not to try to set a trial date yet and that the results of Miss Hearst's psychiatric tests will influence when her trial will begin.

But Bailey he said he could not "put a case together" this year, and he predicted that the trial would not start before 1976.

Bailey met with newsmen after attending a conference with U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter and Browning on ground rules for the psychiatric testing of Miss Hearst. Bailey said he wanted doctors to have full access to her.

Carter appointed three psychiatrists and a psychologist to examine Miss Hearst to see if she is mentally competent to be cross-examined on an affidavit which she signed.

The affidavit said Miss Hearst was brainwashed and tortured by her Symbionese Liberation Army captors and was forced to participate in the robbery of a San Francisco bank on April 15, 1974.

But in a jailhouse conversation with a girlfriend friend before the affidavit was submitted, Miss Hearst described herself as a "revolutionary feminist." Excerpts of the tape were made public when they were placed in court records.

sponsored conference on domestic policy at which the President promised to respond to questions from the floor.

In his Chicago speech, he declared: "I can only say that two-way communication with my friends and fellow Americans is for me an essential part of doing my job properly. I intend to keep my communications open, not in any foolhardy spirit, but by every prudent and practical means."

Following incidents 17 days apart in California in which two women pulled guns on Ford and one fired in his direction, new security measures were introduced in Chicago.

Police with hand-held metal detectors mingled in crowds near the Conrad Hilton Hotel where Ford spoke, and a veteran Chicago policeman said security was the tightest "since the Democratic convention (in 1968) — the most policemen ever for a presidential visit."

About 12 minutes before Ford arrived at the Conrad Hilton, police arrested Carmen Teresa Pulido, 37, who was allegedly carrying a 25-caliber pistol, near the hotel's rear door. She was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and failure to register the gun or carry a state registration card.

White House officials said the incident had nothing to do with Ford's trip. Mrs. Pulido works at a currency exchange near the hotel.

Medicare Cost Rise Seen In '76

WASHINGTON (AP) — Persons hospitalized under the federal Medicare program will be required next year to pay at least the first $104 of their medical bills, up from the present $92, the government says.

The Social Security Administration, blaming hospital costs that are rising 50 per cent faster than the cost-of-living, announced Tuesday it will shift to a new schedule of higher rates for most services starting Jan. 1, 1976.

The out-of-pocket charge for the average hospital stay will be raised 13 per cent from the current $92, the agency said.

The new amount is equivalent to the average cost of one day of hospitalization, Social Security Commissioner James B. Cardwell said. The average Medicare stay now is about 13½ days and costs $1,400.

The new rates also mean Medicare patients will pay additional costs of $3 a day for extended hospital stays and $1.50 daily for long-term post-hospitalization nursing home care.

Of the 24.1 million people receiving Medicare coverage, 2.2 million are aged 65 and over and 2.1 million are disabled.

Beginning next year, Medicare beneficiaries who stay in the hospital more than 60 days will pay $26 daily for the 61st through the 90th day. Currently they are charged $23 a day.

Ohio Cities Show Increase In Crimes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Columbus led nine Ohio cities in an increase in crime for the first six months of 1975 compared to the same period a year ago, according to FBI figures released Tuesday by U.S. Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi.

Only one Ohio city with more than 100,000 population showed a decline. The total crime index in Canton was down 287.

Reported crimes in Columbus, Ohio's second largest city, jumped from 16,941 to 22,769, an increase of 5,828.

Canton's decrease was from from 3,289 to 3,002.

The totals include crimes of murder, non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary or breaking and entering, larceny-theft and motor vehicle theft.

Robberies in Columbus jumped from 802 to 1,105 while larcenies increased from 8,701 to 11,430 and burglaries jumped from 5,345 to 7,647, The FBI figures showed.

Cleveland was second among Ohio cities, showing an increase of 4,002 in its crime index over the same period last year. Dayton was third with a 2,767 increase.

Levi said nationally the increase was 13 per cent, compared to a 16 per cent increase for the first six months of 1974 compared to a similar period in 1973.

A rundown on total crimes in the nine Ohio cities for the six months, with 1974 figures in parenthesis, follows:

Akron 9,702 (9,079); Canton 3,002 (3,289); Cincinnati 15,837 (14,538); Cleveland 27,227 (23,225); Columbus 22,769 (16,941); Dayton 12,889 (10,122); Parma 1,287 (1,148); Toledo 15,495 (12,965), and Youngstown 3,457 (3,292).

Unemployment Dips Across Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A marked improvement in the Indiana job market over the summer appears to be continuing, the state Employment Security Division said Tuesday.

It said unemployment, adjusted to reflect seasonal changes, dropped .1 per cent to 8.4 per cent in August. It show unemployment was "dropping a little faster than it normally would between July and August."

Rural areas improved more rapidly than cities. Fifteen largely rural counties reported unemployment rates under 6 per cent in August, compared with seven counties in July and three in June.

IESD said 27,000 more Hoosiers were working in August than July.

immunizations, vision, hearing, mobility problems, and other physical impediments.

Another aspect of the plan is that it would allow the nurses an opportunity to establish a viable and working relationship with teachers, who board members feel are the "sentries of the youngsters."

The program would also be expanded to include all school-age children. Time and money limitations currently in affect allow the nurses only to screen youngsters in the first six grades.

It would also allow the Board of Health to foster an accurate medical records system for all the pupils.

Circleville City Schools would not be included in the contract, although health nurses would continue to provide immunizations for the city students.

The Fairfield County Board of Health has apparently failed to act on a request by the local department to rid Pickaway Countians living in Tarlton of sewage leaking from Fairfield County homes.

The board agreed to have the problem abated in 60 days, but the time limit expired Tuesday and the problem still exists.

An inspection of the area by local personnel revealed that Fairfield County residents have apparently connected septic tanks into a tile that runs into a ditch on the Pickaway County portion of the village.

Further discussions with the Fairfield County Board of Health have been scheduled.

In other health board matters, members failed to grant a variance for construction of a septic tank in Ringgold. The tiny village is currently under a department "freeze" on building because of soil limitations found there compounded with an underlay of bedrock that does not permit proper leaching of sewage;

Noted that further control of mosquito problems in the future should be the responsibility of individual townships and villages. Environmentalist Bob Kramer will, however, be available for consultation;

15-Year-Old Girl Injured In Accident

A 15-year-old Ashville girl is in guarded condition at Children's Hospital, Columbus, with injuries sustained in a car-bicycle accident occurring 7:50 p.m. Tuesday in the village of South Bloomfield.

Janet E. Aldenderfer, 15, received multiple contusions, abrasions, concussions and fractured pelvis, when her bike was struck from behind by a Jeep-vehicle, driven by George B. Fares, 61, Ashville.

Miss Aldenderfer and a brother, Terry L. Aldenderfer were riding their bikes west on a private drive in Scioto Estates, when Fares, following the bicyclists, drove to the left to avoid them.

Fares pulled back into the right lane of traffic and struck the rear of the girl's bike.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Kellenberger is continuing the investigation of the accident.

Deaths

MRS. HELEN CRIST GEHRES
Mrs. Helen Crist Gehres, 64, Knoxville, Tenn., died 7:30 a.m. Wednesday at Pickaway Manor.

Born Nov. 27, 1910 in Circleville, she was the daughter of Edward and Carlena Ebert Crist.

Her husband, Hillard Gehres, preceded her in death.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Robert (Judy) O'Neil, Knoxville, Tenn.; two grandsons, Michael and Robert O'Neil; one sister, Mrs. Charles H. Walters, 590 Lancaster Pike.

The funeral service will be held 2 p.m. Friday at Mader Funeral Home with Pastor Carl Zehner officiating. Burial will be in Hitler-Ludwig Cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home beginning 1 p.m. Thursday.

Learned that swimming pool regulations, mirroring ones currently enforced in the county, will be acted upon soon by Circleville City Council;

Were told by the health nurses that four more applicants have been accepted for vision tests and possible eye glasses under the Sight Saver Fund even though six persons are still on the waiting list. Promised money for the fund has failed to materialize, they noted;

Learned the health nurses, who have begun school immunizations, also administered 64 skin tests last month and gave gamma globulin to six patients who were exposed to infectious hepatitis;

Signed a contract with Yates Motors for a two-year period beginning in 1976 for the lease of two department vehicles after a bid opening;

Learned that Circleville City Council will act on an extension of the current contract for health services with the county department for 1976;

Were told that original plans to hire an alcoholism coordinator for the county with federal funds were scuttled when the funds were diverted to another county. However, board members hope to have a similar program started in 1976;

Learned that the Public Helath Council is currently studying legislation that would increase subsidy to the local department from $1,340 to $4,106 annually;

Discussed preliminary figures for the 1976 budget.

The next meeting of the board will be Tuesday, Oct. 28, at 8 p.m.

Forestry Chief Ernest J. Gebhart said firewood will be sold at Blue Rock State Forest Saturday, Oct. 4, and Hocking state Forest Saturday, Nov. 1.

A standard cord of wood is four feet high by eight feet long by four feet wide. A rick or "short cord" measures four feet high by eight feet long by the length of the firewood, generally 16 to 20 inches. A rick is considered about one-third as much wood as a cord.

Dead, dying and deformed timber is cut and hauled to a specific area where citizens can cut and split it into firewood.

Wood buyers must bring their own axes and saws. Tools will not be furnished.

The firewood will be on sale from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at both forests.

Blue Rock State Forest is 15 miles southeast of Zanesville via U.S. Route 60 south to Muskingum County Road 45. Hocking State Forest is 60 miles southeast of Columbus off State Route 374. Signs will be posted at both state forests to direct visitors to the firewood sale areas.

Ohio Village Founders Day Scheduled

A hot air balloon launching, a concert by the Ohio State Alumni Marching Band, a corn husking bee and a sunset sing-along around a bonfire will be a few of the highlights of the second annual Ohio Village Founder's Day scheduled for Sunday, October 12.

Founder's Day is a recreation of a popular early Ohio celebration that honored the founding fathers of a community with a holiday filled with fun and entertainment.

The Ohio Village Founder's Day has been designed to encourage visitors to take part in as many of the activities as possible. Contests in which the public can participate include tug-of-wars, a pie eating contest, foot races, apple bobbing, tomahawk throwing, cannonball tossing and bag races. A new addition to this year's activities will be a corn husking bee where contestants will compete against one another to see which can completely husk a bushel of corn first. Silver dollars will be offered as prizes in many of the games.

A 1 p.m. parade through the village will precede the Founder's Day ceremony on the town square, during which the new Ohio Village Lawyer's Office, sponsored by the Ohio State Bar Association and Foundation, will be officially dedicated.

Music will be another of the day's highlights. The Ohio State Alumni Marching Band will give a brass band concert on the village square at 2:30. The Ohio Village Singers, a newly organized group specializing in early Ohio music, will offer concerts in the Town Hall at 2:00, 3:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Awards will be given for the best mid-19th century costumes worn by a man, a woman, a couple and a family. If visitors choose not to come in costume, casual clothing is recommended so they can participate in many of the events.

The day will climax with the launching of the Huntington National Bank's balloon from the village grounds and a sing-along around a giant bonfire at sunset.

The gates at Ohio Village on Founder's Day will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. although activities will continue till 9 p.m. Food services will be available in the village throughout the day. Admission will be $1.50 for adults and children 12 and under, who are accompanied by their parents, will be admitted free.

Ohio Village is located at I-71 and 17th Ave., just north of the Ohio Historical Center, in Columbus.

A Page Of Opinion

A Vote Of No Confidence

The rather sudden action by the House in cutting off the financial freedom of the Postal Service comes as a vote of no confidence after several years of worsening service.

When Congress decided to create an independent mail system, much fanfare resulted, with pie-in-the-sky promises of a brighter day around the corner.

Since then, the department's own "whiz kids" and efficiency experts have managed to make a monumental mess of mail delivery, despite rate hike after rate hike.

From an image of friendly neighborhood postman working for a slightly inefficient but nonetheless human federal agency, the "experts" have managed to make the delivery of mail an object of derision and scorn.

The postman himself, with more militant union action, cannot escape some blame for the situation. But, we believe, the main problem has been the centralization drive whereby mail moves many times the distance necessary through processing centers before arriving at their destination.

Possibly we need less concern with supersophisticated machines and a return to a concern for getting th mail where it belongs as soon as possible, and as directly as possible.

Stubborn Bravery

By JIM BISHOP

The President walked the little distance from the White House to the War Department. His guard, Thomas Crook, walked at his side. An intoxicated man lurched close to the President. Crook shoved him aside.

The day was April, 14, 1865. The time: 4:05 p.m. "Crook," the President said, "do you know I believe there are men who would take my life." Major Crook had never heard Abraham Lincoln speak of assassination. "And I have no doubt they will do it."

"Why do you think so, Mr. President?" Lincoln shuffled on, the big feet rising and falling with fatigue. "Other men have been assassinated..." he said.

"I hope you are mistaken, Mr. President." Lincoln squared his shoulders. "I have perfect confidence in those who are around me," he said. "In every one of you men. I know no one could do it and escape alive. But if it is to be done, it is impossible to prevent it."

That night he was to take Mrs.

Lincoln to Ford's Theatre. As the President spoke to his guard, he had exactly six hours and 10 minutes before a quarter-inch lead ball crashed through the back of his head, coming to rest behind his left eye.

We lost Lincoln; we lost Garfield; we lost McKinley; we lost Kennedy. Must we continue to lose because our Chief Executives are stubbornly brave? If not this President, must we worry about the next? A woman tried to fire a shot at President Ford from a distance of three feet.

His face did not explode in a flash of flame for two reasons: This first is that the bullets were in the clip, not the firing chamber. The second was that a Secret Service man got his hand on the firing pin and got the gun from the woman.

If you saw the incident on TV you saw fear on the face of the President. He was hunched low, being led from the scene. This was followed by a brave White House announcement that the President will not permit barriers between him and the people. He will continue to work the crowds, hand over hand, listening to the crack of applause, hoping never to hear a louder one.

The Presidents with whom I have been acquainted nullified the work of the Secret Service. Herbert Hoover didn't like them. He thought they crowded too close, made him feel uncomfortable.

In Dallas, Lyndon Johnson was scared out of his wits. When the first shot echoed across Dealey Plaza, Special Agent Rufus Youngblood sat on Johnson's head until the V.P. was safe.

Fear emasculates some men. At the Kennedy funeral, George Reedy writes that Lyndon Johnson asked if he should march with the crowned heads of Europe to St. Matthew Pro-Cathedral. No one answered his question. No one could. He marched. An assassin on any one of hundreds of roofs could have picked him off at leisure.

In the third week of October, 1963, I spent several days with President John F. Kennedy in the White House. On the last day, Oct. 28th, he sat in his Kittyhawk rocker in the Oval Office. Mrs. B. and I sat on a sofa at the fireplace.

"Next on the agenda," he said softly, "is a trip to Texas. You know something, for the first time Jackie is going to be with me. She doesn't like these political things."

I nodded. He said he had read a book of mine. I asked which one. "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," he said. "I enjoyed it. I must tell you that I agree with Lincoln on assassination. Nobody in the world can protect you if somebody — how shall I say it? — somebody wants to exchange his life for yours."

A week before Dallas, Kennedy was in Florida. Crowds closed in on a motorcade. Kennedy smiled and waved from an open car. Secret Service men tried to board the car at the sides and at the trunk. Under his breath, the President was roaring, "Get off the car. Get... off... the — damn car." When they dropped off, he ordered the chauffeur to increase speed. He outstripped his protection.

Robert Kennedy, who was not a President, departed from a Los Angeles hotel by a rear kitchen to avoid a boisterous crowd. He heard a pop. His last words were, "Is it serious?"

Today any President can reach a hundred million people through the television camera. He can shake hands with no more than a few hundred. Isn't it a pity that our Presidents read history without learning?...

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Of growing importance, almost by the day, will be the attitude of ordinary Americans toward economic news between now and the Christmas season.

In a secular context, that period is more than one of good will and charity. It is a period when merchants seek what for them is the biggest gift of all, a sales bonanza.

Whether or not they will have it depends, it is popularly argued, on whether the economic recovery continues and gains strength, but that explanation misses the point.

Of more significance is how the American consumer perceives economic conditions, which really is to say how he perceives his own financial condition. In the United States, the consumer is the economy — two-thirds of it, anyway.

It has been demonstrated before that even though the consumer might have cash in his or her pocket, that cash isn't necessarily spent if there are doubts about jobs or inflation or other aspects of the economy.

The consumer buying mood, which is said to be improving, still remains weak when compared to some of the peaks over the past 10 years. Fears about jobs are common, and so are doubts about future spending power.

These doubts are reflected in retail sales, which in the third week of September were only 6 per cent higher than a year earlier, on an annual, dollar basis. Because of 8.6 per cent inflation, that meant a real decline.

A good deal of the decline results from weakness in sales of certain big-ticket items, including furniture, whose markets have been damaged by the slow pace of homebuilding. But over-all, the exuberance merchants seek isn't evident.

For at least one large merchant situation, unless corrected, might lead to an additional financial crisis. W. T. Grant Co., which lost $111.3 million in the first half of the year, needs big Christmas season sales to pay its nervous creditors.

Grant is being kept alive with a $540 million loan from 27 banks, a loan that will come up for payment or rewriting next July 30. Store officials say the critical factor will be Christmas sales.

In fact, Grant is depending heavily on improved consumer attitudes as well as cost-cutting to turn the tide. No longer does it expect to make a profit for the August-September-October quarter, but it does hope to be in the black for the final three months of its fiscal year, which ends Jan. 31.

It would ease the anxiety of merchants and consumers too, if they were able to make assumption they were reasonably certain would hold. But this is difficult at the moment; too many imponderables exist.

The consumer has enormous spending power, despite the economic troubles of recent years. How he uses it during the Christmas shopping season will make or break a good many merchants.

"Next on the agenda," he said softly, "is a trip to Texas. You know something, for the first time Jackie is going to be with me. She doesn't like these political things."

I nodded. He said he had read a book of mine. I asked which one. "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," he said. "I enjoyed it. I must tell you that I agree with Lincoln on assassination. Nobody in the world can protect you if somebody — how shall I say it? — somebody wants to exchange his life for yours."

Gasoline Prices Hurting Rural Families Most

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising gasoline prices are hurting rural people much more than their city cousins, simply because they have to drive more and cannot turn to public transportation, says the Agriculture Department.

Based on surveys, the average rural family drives more than 15,000 miles a year, compared with about 8,000 for city dwellers. The rural automobile uses about 1,000 gallons of gasoline annually while the city vehicle consumes about 700 gallons.

"Thus, the rural household consumes about 40 per cent more gasoline but travels twice as many miles as the urban household," says the department's Economic Research Service in a current issue of "Farm Index" published by the agency.

"Boosting taxes on gasoline by 25 cents a gallon to conserve energy would jump the cost of transportation for the rural family by $250 and $175 for the city family," the report said.

Logging Contests Set Oct. 10 At Nelsonville

NELSONVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Top loggers will compete for prizes in chopping and sawing contests in the three-day Paul Bunyan Show starting Oct. 10 at the Hocking Technical College.

At the exposition sponsored by the Ohio Forestry Association, modern logging and wood-processing equipment will be shown.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 1, the 274th day of 1975. There are 91 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1949, the People's Republic of China was proclaimed by the Communist leader, Mao Tse-tung.

On this date:

In 1910, Japan annexed Korea.

In 1928, the Soviet union inaugurated its first Five-Year Plan to increase farm and industrial production.

In 1936, Gen. Francisco Franco was proclaimed the head of the government of Spain.

Ten years ago: It appeared that an attempt to overthrow President Sukarno of Indonesia had been foiled.

Five years ago: President Richard M. Nixon was conferring in Yugoslavia with President Tito.

One year ago: The Federal Government banned the use of two widely used pesticides, Aldrin and Dieldrin.

Today's birthdays: Supreme Court Justice William Rehnquist is 51 years old. Actress Julie Andrews is 40.

Thought for today: It's the trade of lawyers to question everything, yield nothing and talk by the hour — President Thomas Jefferson, 1743-1826.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, American forces under Colonel Benedict Arnold continued their march towards Quebec despite inclement weather and rough travelling conditions along the Kennebec River.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A friend of mine keeps canned food and freeze-dried food on the shelf for terribly long periods of time. Does the food value change after so many months, sometimes over a year?

Mrs. T. S., S.D.

Dear Mrs. S.:
Dr. Herman Dillon, of the Department of Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, says that "vitamin losses during storage of canned or dried food may vary widely, depending on the freshness of the product at the time it was purchased, the type of package, and the temperature of the storage area."

"Unopened canned foods, whether in tin cans or glass jars, should be stored below 70 degrees F., to maintain vitamin C and (vitamin B1)."

It seems hardly necessary, with modern distribution systems, to keep any canned food for inordinately long periods of time. They don't mellow with age, but rather can be harmed by rust, punctures or bulges.

pressure. I am sure that when he blows off steam, his blood pressure goes way up. Do you agree?

Mrs. J. Y., Mich.

Dear Mrs. Y.:
There is undeniable evidence that rage, emotional stress, anxiety and tension affect the blood pressure. Sometimes the rise in blood pressure may be just as transient as the period of anger.

But there are physiological changes that occur in the blood vessels with anxiety and rage. There is a specialized nervous system, called the "sympathetic," which can narrow the blood vessels under emotional stress. This leads to a complicated method by which the blood pressure is elevated.

You are entirely correct in your belief that there is a relationship between your husband's behavior pattern and his high blood pressure. This should be corrected, perhaps by psychological guidance. These transient episodes of high blood pressure may become permanently fixed.

Poland May Get American Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances appear good that a long-term agreement to supply Poland with U.S. grain will be worked out when Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz visits Warsaw two months from now.

Butz and Polish Minister of Agriculture Kazimierz Barcikowski said Monday they had "agreed on the principles" of such a pact. The two farm leaders, however, declined comment on how much grain may be involved.

harvest. Soviet purchases from the United States totaled 9.8 million tons in July before the lid was put on.

The joint statement said Poland wanted to buy more U.S. grain this calendar year, although Butz and Barcikowski declined to speculate how much more or how much might be called for under the long-term agreement.

However, there has been speculation in the trade that Poland might seek about 2.5 million tons of U.S. grain annually over the next three years.

According to Agriculture Department export figures, Poland already has bought about 1.9 million metric tons of U.S. wheat and corn from this year's harvest, about double its purchases last season. Further sales to Poland were stopped on Sept. 22 at the request of the U.S. State Department over Butz's protests.

The hold on Polish grain sales followed an earlier ban on sales to the Soviet Union, an embargo President Ford said would continue until mid-October.

Set Display Of Painting

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Paintings from museums and private collections in Europe and the United States will be displayed at the Toledo Museum of Art during the Age of Louis XV exhibition Oct. 26-Dec. 7.

The 125 paintings are valued at more than $26 million. Some 90 works will come from France, including more than 20 lent by the Louvre in Paris.

Toledo museum officials are opening and inspecting the first group of 36 works received from France. The shipment was flown to Detroit and brought to Toledo by van.

The paintings were assembled at the Louvre in special airtight and waterproof boxes, each containing two or three paintings in separate compartments.

Otto Wittmann, museum director, said all of the paintings are expected to arrive by mid-October. Following the exhibition here, the art works go to Chicago and Ottawa, Canada, for similar showings.

Shadi Grows 'Persian Rugs'

EL CERRITO, Calif. (AP) — Colorful flowers make the designs in three Persian rugs and one old-fashioned quilt in the hillside garden of Sundar Shadi. More than 8,000 plants were used to create living rugs and a quilt. There are 35 different plant varieties and the quilt has five kinds of marigolds. The Persian rugs all have different borders and designs.

It has not been an easy nor an inexpensive hobby, however. Shadi uses about 35 pounds of snail pellets to protect the fragile plants and has had to eliminate about six gophers who were chewing holes in the "rugs." A further expense is the plants themselves. He buys flats from the nursery so they will all be blooming at the same time. They usually cost around $500 to $600 for this summer project.

Shadi has lived in the same place since 1935. During the holiday season he features Christmas scenes which attract thousands and create a traffic jam of viewers.

Ohio Senate Report

By OAKLEY C. COLLINS
17th District Senator

Over forty bills have been introduced in the legislature this session relating to the quality, cost, and availability of basic medical services for Ohioans. Of these, eleven have received much consideration while only eight have passed both the House and the Senate.

Efforts to provide Ohio physicians with medical malpractice insurance caused some of the sharpest controversy in the Legislature thus far. Malpractice insurance rate increases of up to 300 per cent per year led to strikes by physicians in California, Illinois, New York, and some parts of Ohio. At the same time it was becoming more difficult for physicians — particularly those in high-risk specialties — to find malpractice insurance at any cost because underwriters were not making enough profit in Ohio to stay in business.

Of the bills and resolutions introduced to deal with this problem, only Substitute House Bill 682, an administration-backed measure, received final approval and went into effect in late July. It addresses the legal rights and obligations of patient, provider of medical services (physician or hospital), and malpractice insurers.

The bill specifies a consent form for medical treatment which provides that the patient has been fairly and fully informed of and understands known risks involved in that operation or service. It establishes an arbitration procedure for out-of-court settlement of malpractice claims to reduce legal costs as a factor in providing malpractice insurance. Both parties in an arbitration case retain the ultimate right to a trial should either one refuse the arbitration board's award.

Limits on the award procedure include a maximum of $250,000 for general damages not involving death and a four-year period in which to file a malpractice claim. Admissible court testimony by members of the medical profession is restricted to physician-surgeons and osteopath-surgeons licensed in any state and which devote at least ¾ of their professional time to clinical practice or instruction in a medical school.

A newly created State Medical Board appointed by the Governor and composed of seven medical doctors, one osteopath, and one lay representative may review, suspend or revoke physicians licensed to practice in Ohio. Grounds for action include misrepresentation of diagnosis, fraudulent prognosis, illegal use or prescription of drugs, solicitation of business, failure to pay malpractice insurance premiums, unethical conduct, etc.

Beginning January 1, 1977, physicians must apply for recertification every three years on applications mailed by the State Medical Board. Recertification costs $50 and requires at least 150 hours of continuing education certified by the Ohio State Medical Association.

Malpractice insurer responsibilities are provided for through mandatory participation in the State Insurance Department's Joint Underwriting Association. The Joint Underwriting Association is a "risk pool" which spreads the cost of malpractice awards among all underwriters. To maintain a sound financial basis for the Association there is a policy surcharge of $250 for individual physicians and $1500 for hospitals.

A number of bills seek to insure the availability of primary health care through increasing educational opportunities for medical students. Substitute House Bill 943 provides a so-called "fifth pathway" course of clinical instruction at one Ohio medical school for Ohioans who have graduated from foreign medical schools but who lack the clinical experience necessary to be licensed in Ohio.

Another bill created a College of Osteopathy at Ohio University.

The biennial budget specifies that surplus funds in the Ohio Instructional Grant account may be used for financial aid to nursing school students. Two other bills under consideration seek to establish a more formal system of financial aid for nursing school students.

Under the terms of a bill now being considered by the House Committee on Education, medical and osteopathic students who are residents of Ohio could contract for state financial assistance through an Ohio Medical School Loan Commission. The loan would be repaid through practice or internship in a part of the state determined to be an "area of critical medical need." In this manner medical students assisted by the state would in turn help balance the state's primary health care delivery system.

Another bill creates an Emergency Medical Services Board appointed by the Governor to prepare a statewide plan for regulating emergency medical services during disasters, and to adopt regulations prescribing standards for personnel, equipment, and operation of ambulance services.

The Board is empowered to establish standards for training and qualification of ambulance personnel; design, equipment and supplies for emergency vehicles; the number and types of people on such vehicles; and the type of communications systems emergency vehicles may use.

Certification provided for by the Board would be done by the state Health Director. The bill also creates an Ambulance Service and Personnel Advisory Board to advise and recommend regulations to the Emergency Medical Services Board prior to public notice and hearings.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Wooed By Fat Woman

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old professional man who is just getting started on a shoestring, you might say. A very bright (but terribly overweight) 28-year-old woman has been aggressively pursuing me. She's good company, but I have no real love interest in her.

I do not like being seen with her because of her size. (She wears clothes that look like tents or maternity clothes.)

She has plenty of money, since she just came into an inheritance, and has been buying me some very expensive presents. She has offered to buy me a car, but so far I have refused although it would come in very handy.

She is an excellent bed partner, but I have to take her out in public occasionally, which makes it awkward.

My brother, who has met her, tells me that if I do not have marriage in mind, I should not see her or accept any more gifts from her.

What do you advise?

CANADIAN

DEAR CANADIAN: Your brother is wiser than you are. The more you accept from this girl, the greater your obligation. Furthermore, she may equate your accepting her as a bed partner with having a "real love interest" in her-which you have not.

The advice from here is to either level with her or say goodbye.

DEAR ABBY: Why should anyone be made to feel guilty for having mistaken a boy for a girl? I wouldn't let the kid put the onus on ME, I'd put it on HIM, where it belongs.

This happened to me once, and I asked, "Well if you don't want people to think you're a girl, why do you go around looking like one?"

VIVIAN: PALM SPRINGS

DEAR VIV: Thanks for a beautiful

gender bender!

DEAR ABBY: I am a professional entertainer. I love to sing, and being on the bandstand, showing people a good time, is what it's all about.

I have a very real gripe: Invariably, there is a frustrated singer in the audience. He (or she) will dance as close to the mike as possible and sing loudly along with me. It's very distracting to hear someone singing a beat behind (or ahead) and usually off-key.

I want everyone to enjoy themselves, but not at my expense. After all, someone just might be trying to listen to ME.

The orchestra and I practice long, hard hours to make our music good, and it bugs me to have somebody who is on his own little ego trip louse it up for everyone else.

If some self-styled vocalist wants to be where I am, let him take voice lessons as I did, form a group and take it from the top, boys! I hear you also get paid.

So, if you're there in the audience, please don't sing!

Family Fights Hereditary Illness

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — More than 100 descendants of Antone Joseph, a Portuguese immigrant whose genes carried a crippling and fatal disease, are finally learning about the mysterious family illness that has killed 48 of them.

Some members of the family learned for the first time last weekend that they are victims of "Joseph's Disease" when Dr. William Nyhan, professor of pediatrics at the University of California at San Diego, conducted a special clinic for them at Oakland Children's Hospital.

The incurable neurological disorder occurs only in Joseph's descendants. "A single gene carries it," Nyhan said. "Every time you have a child, there's a 50-50 chance of transmitting it and that, in genetic terms, is a huge risk, the biggest risk we deal in."

Nyhan and Dr. Robert Rosenburg, a neurological expert from the University of Texas, counseled and tested family members in the clinic sponsored by the National Genetic Foundation of New York.

"Early on, people notice that they start getting wobbly and staggering and their speech becomes slurred," Nyhan explained. "As time goes on they become increasingly spastic. Usually it's at least 10 years from the onset of the illness to the time of the patient's death."

Nyhan told parents who face the possibility of passing the disorder on to their offspring:

"We had two brothers and one said, 'With this information, I'm simply not going to have any children.' The other said, 'I'm not going to limit my life in any way, I'm going to live my life regardless of this.'"

Family member Rosemary Silva, who traced the descendants and organized the clinic through the foundation, described it as "an emotional experience. For years we didn't know what kind of disease we had."

The mistaken belief that the disorder was linked to venereal disease had made many family members reluctant to discuss the illness, said Mrs. Silva, who is not a victim.

"Genetic disease has the kind of stigma that cancer once had, like it's someone's fault," said David Balis of the foundation. "But it's just hereditary. In this case, nature throws the dice and all four children in a family may have it or they may all be OK."

Harold Herber of San Jose, whose brother and two sisters have the disease, said family members have reacted in different ways to being told about the disease.

"People can get emotional over this because when you talk about marriage, the only way you can stop this in a family is not to have children," said Herber, who is 40 and believes he has escaped the disease. It is normally detected in a person's 20s or 30s.

"I wasn't really hoping for anything for myself," said Violet Weldon of Redding, who has known about her illness since 1964. "Basically I am quite peaceful with myself anyway."

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY, Phone 986-3481

It is happy time this week in that Vicki Buskirk was unexpectedly released from Children's Hospital on Monday and is now at home with her family. Bill and Polly Buskirk, Gina and Billy. Vicki is not permitted to return to school as yet and is expected to get lots of rest; however, she is allowed to have visitors for brief chats.

Our very fine neighbor, Harry Puffinbarger, was discharged from Berger Hospital last Wednesday and is feeling much better and how glad we all are.

Harry is so pleased and gratified with all the many, many cards he received as well as flowers and other gifts. He wishes to express a big thank you to all who remembered him with prayers, too.

The hospital visits of Pastor Zehner and Rev. Crosby meant much to Harry. Emma (Harry's better half) is especially thankful to "Boogie" and Thelma Puffinbarger and to Gene and Glenna Steinhauser for seeing to it that she never lacked for transportation to and from the hospital each day during Harry's stay.

Each couple is very deserving of a jewel of kindness in the ring of good deeds.

Wednesday afternoon callers of Harry and Emma were Margaret "Peg" Fulton and her husband Paul of Upper Arlington. Peg is recuperating nicely from her recent heart attack. Wednesday evening visitors of the Puffinbargers were Noah and Mabel List of near Pherson.

Since I was too "doggone" puny to have much to say last week I will take this opportunity to tie up all the loose ends of our just passed festival.

First of all, our senior citizens honored for this year were Anna Mae Christopher, Martha "Kate" Russell, Hazel Clark, Earl and Flo Baker, Rodney and Lucille Betts and Fannie Follrod.

Illness and death of family members prevented several of our honored guests from participating actively on Senior Citizen Day. The first three listed were very much a part of the day's activities and relatives were here from far and near to be a part of the recognition. They came from Oxford; Washington C.H., Hillsboro, Londonderry, Chillicothe, Columbus, Stoutsville, Adelphi, Amanda, Cincinnati, Circleville, and Ashville, Ky. to name but a few of the towns and cities.

A lovely memento was presented to each senior citizen as a keepsake of "their day".

The festival committee takes this time to publicly thank the Deercreek Township trustees for the use of the Pavilion building during festival days. The building proved its invaluable service especially on Thursday night when it rained so terribly hard.

To pull a surprise on Mary Alice Greenwood would take some real doing but hand it to her fellow co-workers at Circleville High School they did just that. Under the guise of a teachers picnic they all assembled at Hargus Lake and the next thing M.A. knew she was the guest of honor. She was completely "flabbergasted" but very, very pleased. What a nice way to begin a medical leave.

When Mary Alice's health permits the two of us find what we can get into and one of the more interesting has been the Farm Heritage Days. Hope a repeat is done on this for next year.

A truly large crowd attended the recent auction sale of the late Ben and Anna Compton's effects. Coming up from Kentucky to be with parents Paul and Irma Fenstermaker for the weekend and to do their share of bidding at the sale were Becky Messer of Lexington, Bill and Nancy Heskett, Tracey and Travis of Louisville.

Rae Fenstermaker has transferred from Georgetown, Ky. to Ohio State this year where she is a resident of Smith Hall.

Recent house guests of Marie (Mrs.

Ulin) McGhee were her twin sister Marjorie Wright of Columbus and her cousin Marguerite Grisby of Sebring, Florida.

The Atlanta United Methodist Church had their annual fish and ham supper this past Saturday night and let me tell you, those folks really know how to "put on" a super supper. When they advertise "all you can eat" they mean just that.

I saw so many persons there from our town that I best not try to name them for fear I would miss someone and that wouldn't be fair.

Dick and Colleen Hitchcock and daughter Chellene of Oakwood were the joy of Colleen's parents the Rev. Richard and Marybelle Crosby over the weekend.

Additional guests on Sunday were Margie (Mrs. Carl) Link and companion Linda Hall from Defiance. Mrs. Link is a former parishoner of the Crosbys and drove down to attend church services here Sunday morning.

The Rev. Crosby delivers a mighty powerful, though provoking and meaningful sermon each Sunday and it is well worth a long drive to hear or a short drive, for that matter.

Marcia Horch reminds parents of all first, second and third grade girls that Brownie Scout Troop 928 meets each Monday after school from 3:30 until 4:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall and any girl interested in becoming a part of the troop should contact her at 986-6472 very soon.

Having difficulty reaching a local resident by telephone? Perhaps it is because the phone number has been changed. Several numbers were changed concurrent with the delivery of the new directory so give it a check before giving up.

Meet The New Marshal

The new marshal or police chief in town is Patrick "Pat" Dawson. Pat is a 1965 graduate of Westfall High School, is married to the former Mary Tilton and they have two sons, Pat Jr., age 9, and Joseph, age 6.

Pat is the only child of Paul and Joan Easter Dawson who now reside in Circleville but for many years lived in the Five Points community.

The police chief position is a part time job in our village but Pat encourages each and everyone to feel free to contact him at any time by calling 986-6232. He is sincerely interested in having a friendly relationship with everyone as well as having good law enforcement.

Bowling has begun again for another season and for several gals from our town the place to bowl is Circle D lanes. On Tuesday morning a not so bushy-tailed eager-eyed group wends their way to the lanes, namely, Dolly Thompson, Norma Cochenour, Beverly Whitten, yours truly and substitute Jeannine Hamman.

We won't go into scores and all that "jazz" since all of us are still trying to improve and believe me there is much room for improvement. Best of all is the fact we really have a good time and doesn't that count most?

Be with you again next week, be the Lord willing. Take care.

Think About: Be happy because every minute you are angry you lose sixty seconds of happiness.

New State Nature Preserve Announced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state announced the Edward S. Thomas Nature Preserve in Franklin County, a 319-acre preserve within Sharon Woods Metropolitan Park, is the newest state nature preserve.

The state Department of Natural Resources said the designation of the new preserve brings the total number of state nature preserves to 22 and total acreage to 5,258.

Oslo, Norway, was destroyed by fire in 1624.

Postal Gripes Made Easier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Did that package marked "fragile" arrive in your mailbox in a battered condition? Did this month's girlie magazine arrive dog-eared with the centerfold torn out?

Now you can tell it to the post office. Beginning Wednesday, the Postal Service is launching a program that will invite disgruntled postal patrons to air their complaints.

Unhappy customers will be able to obtain a "consumer service card" from post offices and from letter carriers. The complaints written on the card will get quick attention, the Postal Service says.

The new system will "let us know, in a quick and simple way, about service problems," Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar said in announcing the program.

Bailar's announcement came before the House voted Monday to revoke the Postal Service's financial independence as a result of dissatisfaction with the way the service operates.

The campaign "reflects our feeling that the idea of good service must mean more than the speed of delivery. It involves responsiveness and understanding, too," Bailar said.

The Postal Service decided on the national program after trying out the consumer service card this summer in Arizona, Illinois, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

The number of complaints over the six-week test period in the four states was 9,890. In the same period last year there were 7,473 complaints taken to postal officials by residents of those states.

The consumer service card is a two-piece card, two postal cards with carbon paper between them. After filling out the top copy, the two cards can be separated.

One of the prepaid postal cards goes to the local postmaster. The other goes to the Postal Service's Office of Consumer Affairs in Washington.

After acting on the complaint, the local postmaster is to explain on the reverse side of his copy of the card how the problem was handled. Then, he is to mail his copy of the card to Washington.

Meanwhile, in Washington, the information from the other card is used to create an index of consumer satisfaction. The card allows not only for complaints, but also for information requests, suggestions and other comments.

"I believe that once the new program is firmly established, it will demonstrate both our willingness to solve people's problems and the overall high quality of our service," Bailar said.

August Lakes Shipping Rises Above Last Year

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Lake Carriers' Association said Tuesday that Great Lakes shipments of iron ore, coal and grain totalled 14,719,260 net tons for August.

The association said the volume is 1.7 million net tons more than that shipped during August last year.

The Circleville Herald, Wednesday October 1, 1975

Seminar Called Off

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A seminar of state lawmakers and members of the Ohio Osteopathic Association, planned for Oct. 10-12 at Kings Island amusement park near Cincinnati, has been called off, the organization said Tuesday.

Jon Wills, public relations officer for the group, said the session, although planned a year ago, was "poorly timed" and had received advance publicity that made osteopaths and lawmakers both reluctant to participate.

Earlier news stories noting that the lawmakers were to receive $100 each, in addition to expenses, apparently led to the decision to cancel, coming as they did only a few weeks after the legislature created a new osteopathic medical school at Ohio University in Athens.

Wills reiterated the lobbying group's explanation that the meeting was planned in September 1974 under a grant from Smith, Kline & French

Trotwood Teacher Strike Settled

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Striking teachers at suburban Trotwood agreed to return to their classes today after working out general details of a new contract, School Supt. George Mourzis reported late Tuesday.

The teachers struck Monday after a week of negotiations failed to resolve differences with school officials.

The proposed agreement provides a base salary of $8,410, and improvements in negotiating procedures, leave and fringe benefits, the superintendent said.

Some details of the salary package remain to be worked out, he added.

Laboratories, Inc., a national pharmaceutical firm which has underwritten similar physician-legislator conferences in 40 other states.

The association's spokesman said the seminar may be rescheduled for next year when there is "a better climate."

Saltcreek Grange To Meet Tuesday

The Saltcreek Valley Grange will hold its next meeting at the hall in Tarlton on October 7, with the business session scheduled for 8 p.m.

Donna Beougher will provide the literary program which will follow reports by officers and the regular business session.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Timmons, Loring Hill and Virgil Timmons will serve as hosts for the social period which will close the meeting.

40 MPG HIGHWAY

28 MPG CITY
EPA RATING

That's with the standard 1.4-litre engine and 4-speed manual transmission. The mileage you get, of course, will be strongly influenced by how and where you drive.

- Chevette is international in design and heritage, incorporating engineering concepts proved around the world.
- Its wheelbase is about the same as a VW Rabbit's.
- It has more front-seat head room than a Datsun B-210, more front-seat leg room than a Toyota Corolla.
- Its turning circle is one of the shortest in the world.

- It can carry cargo up to four feet wide.
- It is well insulated against noise.
- It is protected by 17 anti-corrosion methods.
- It is basically a metric car.
- It comes with a clear, simple self-service booklet.
- It has a standard 1.4-litre engine. A 1.6-litre engine is available (except Scooter).
- It is sold and serviced by all 6,030 Chevrolet dealers.

Built to take it. Vega for 1976: An extensive anti-corrosion program. New hydraulic valve lifters, for quieter engine performance. A new torque-arm rear suspension. And Vega offers a tough Dura-Built 140-cu.-in. 4-cyl. engine guarantee.

5-YEAR/60,000-MILE ENGINE GUARANTEE.
This 5-year/60,000-mile engine guarantee is an added value feature included in your 1976 Vega or Monza car.
The Chevrolet guarantee covers 60,000 miles, or 5 years, whichever occurs first. The guarantee is for 1976 Vegas and Monzas equipped with 4-cylinder, 140-cu.-in. engines. It means that should something go wrong with the engine, your Chevy dealer will fix it. ... free. The guarantee covers repairs to the cylinder block, cylinder head, all internal engine parts, intake and exhaust manifolds, and water pump, made necessary because of defects in material or workmanship. It does not cover repairs required because of accident, misuse or lack of proper maintenance.
See your Chevy dealer for complete guarantee statement.

Impala

One of America's most popular full-size cars. That's the result of giving America good value for the dollar. This year, the Impala series includes the new value of the thrifty Impala S—Chevrolet's lowest priced full-size car.

Nova/Concours

America's favorite compact car. Our basic compact, '76 Nova, makes even more sense than the 3 million Novas that preceded it.

And Concours, the brand-new model featured here, is our highly practical approach to compact luxury.

Chevelle

Enough car for practically anything. It offers room for six at a sensible price. This year, more than ever, its deft blending of mid-size economies, plus room for the average family, makes Chevelle a size whose time has come.

There's much more to see at your Chevy dealer's. Caprice, Monza, Monte Carlo, Camaro, Corvette, Chevrolet wagons—something for everyone in 1976.

Pinkney,
Perk Win
In Primary

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — School Board President Arnold R. Pinkney and Mayor Ralph J. Perk, who ran against each other for mayor in 1971, Tuesday outpolled six other primary contenders to qualify for November's mayoral race.

With all of the city's 644 precincts counted, the unofficial results showed Pinkney had 48,168, or about 41 per cent of the total vote. Perk had 44,310, or about 38 per cent.

The Cuyahoga County Board of Election also said State Rep. Patrick Sweeney had 10,674 and Jim Dickerson, former Ohio Lottery deputy director, had 8,873.

The four other candidates split the remaining votes, but under the primary rules only the top two qualify for the Nov. 4 election.

Pinkney, a Democrat, lost to Perk, a Republican, in a four-way race in 1971 after Carl B. Stokes decided not to seek another term. Pinkney had been Stokes' executive assistant at city hall.

Pinkney, a black, ran well in the city's predominantly black East Side, while Perk carried the West Side, election officials said.

During the campaign, Pinkney launched a registration drive which resulted in about 18,000 new black voters.

Besides matching two rivals of opposite parties and races, the general election pits two men with almost opposite public views of their city.

Pinkney has been stressing that Cleveland is crime-ridden, but Perk has been saying Cleveland major crime rate compares favorably with that of other large cities.

Ohio Crops
Seen Great

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday Ohio's 1975 corn and soybean harvests could produce alltime or near-record highs if wet weather doesn't continue.

"Muddy fields and wet grain have held corn and soybean harvesting at a standstill for two weeks, but they would dry quickly with several consecutive days of warm sunny weather in the next two weeks," Homer L. Carter said.

The harvest of tomatoes, the state's biggest vegetable crop, is expected to be higher than last year although acreage was 7 per cent less, Carter said.

About 5 per cent of the corn harvesting is complete and is equal to what it was at this time last year, Carter said. Nearly 85 per cent is mature and safe from frost, slightly ahead of the normal 75 per cent, he said.

Carter expects corn yields to be about 90 bushels an acre, third highest on record. The highest was 92 bushels in 1972.

Soybeans are 5 per cent combined and although that is well behind 1974's 10 per cent at this time, 60 per cent are mature compared with 55 per cent normally, Carter said.

He predicted an alltime record soybean yield of 31 bushels per acre.

WEST CENTRAL

Partly cloudy and cooler tonight. Lows in the upper 30s and low 40s. Sunny and cooler Thursday. Highs in the upper 50s. Chance of rain 20 per cent tonight and 10 percent Thursday.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

October began with mild temperatures and a threat of showers over Ohio. Radar this morning showed an area of showers and thundershowers over northwestern Ohio extending southwest into Indiana.

These showers were associated with a cold front from Lake Huron across northwestern Ohio stretching down into Texas.

The front was expected to continue eastward through the state today accompanied by showers and thundershowers. Much cooler air was to follow the front, dropping temperatures into the upper 30s or low 40s by Thursday morning, in contrast to the upper 50s and low 60s around the state this morning.

Some showers may lag behind the front tonight, mainly over the eastern sections of the state. A high pressure area now over middle America will be nosing into the state Thursday, causing decreasing cloudiness and a cool day with temperatures generally in the 50s or low 60s in the afternoon.

Five Points News

By MRS. FRANCIS FURNISS

The Five Points United Methodist Social Hour Club met Thursday evening in the basement of the church for its September meeting. A lovely covered dish supper preceded the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and Miss Laura Long were hosts for the evening. Mrs. Herman Porter, president, opened the meeting with all saying the 23rd Psalm in unison and reading, "The Golden Days of Autumn."

Roll call was answered by 16 members and the secretary, Mrs. Francis Furniss, read the minutes of the last meeting. "Thank You" notes were read from Cassia Douglas and Charles Parks. Mrs. Clarence Finch, treasurer, gave the financial report and Mrs. Lulu Sheets played her birthday dues. Cards of cheer were signed to be sent to those who are ill.

For the program Mrs. Gladys Winfough read, "More Flag Waving Is Needed" and Mrs. Loring Stoe read, "Uncle Sam is sick." Clarence Finch read, "Sure, I Remember" and Kenneth Redman read, "What is Golf?" Mrs. Furniss read, "I meet God in the morning," by Helen Steiner Rice and Lulu Sheets told a short Bible Story followed by prayer to close the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch and Mrs. Ellen Dennis will host the October meeting which will be held on Oct. 30.

Mrs. Carrie McCann was pleasantly surprised on Sept. 21 on her 80th birthday when her children and grandchildren arrived at her home with well filled baskets to help her celebrate.

Those enjoying the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hunt and son, Mrs. Vickie Anderson and daughter of near Laureville, Mrs. Ruth Stone and son Dwight, Mrs. Jennie Martin and Homer Certain of Darbyville, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin Jr. and family of Ashville, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stout, Mr. and Mrs. William Barker and sons, and Eddie McCann of Era, Chester and Harry Fretwell of Commercial Point. She received many nice gifts and cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rull and sons Todd and Mark of near Circleville were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and family.

Miss Kelly Kern was elected Football Homecoming Queen Friday night at the Westfall-Adena Game.

Mr. and Mrs. Alford Woods were Sunday evening luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kern and family. The occasion celebrated Keith's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and son Harold and Miss Laura Long were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donahoe and sons of near Washington C.H.

Mrs. Bernice Riley, Mrs. Paul Winn, Mrs. Pollard, Mrs. Gladys Winfough and Mrs. Loring Stoe visited with Mrs. Edna McPherson in the Madison County Hospital, London Sunday afternoon.

The Five Points United Methodist Women will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the basement of the church for their October meeting. Mrs. Festus Hill and Mrs. Francis Furniss will be hosts for the meeting. Please note the change of date, afternoon instead of evening.

Star Grange will meet Oct. 7 at 8 p.m. in the basement of the Five Points United Methodist Church basement for the regular meeting. It will not be installation of officers as formerly announced. The installation has been postponed until the November meeting.

PFC and Mrs. Carl Fuller of Colorado Springs, Col. are the proud parents of a new son, Jason Robert, born Sept. 24. He weighed 5-pounds and 3-ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Fuller are the proud grandparents.

Mrs. Vivian Patch, Mark, Susan and Dee Dee of Fairborn, were Saturday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Fuller and in the evening additional guests were Miss Patty Sines and Miss Janie Schein for a weiner roast.

Mrs. Joan Reid and granddaughter Mindy Holbrook of Washington C.H. were Saturday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Porter were Sunday evening guests of his mother, Mrs. Bertha Porter and Miss Lillian Hess in Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fellenstein and family of Williamsport and Mr. and Mrs. James Arledge and family of Circleville were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Haller.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss were Saturday afternoon guests of Mrs. Bessie Hinton and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cathel in Darbyville.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) My wife and I are legally separated under a written separation agreement. The court decreed that I make weekly maintenance and child support payments for an indefinite period. Are these payments deductible?

(A.) Child support payments are not deductible, but you should check IRS Publication 501, "Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents," to see if you are entitled to claim the child as a dependent.

Payments under a written separation agreement are deductible as alimony only if they meet certain requirements. Since you and your wife are separated and you are making periodic payments, two of the requirements are satisfied. However, in order for the payments to be deductible, they must be made after the execution of the separation agreement. In addition, you and your wife may not file a joint return.

If all these requirements are satisfied, you may claim the payments as an itemized deduction on Schedule A of Form 1040. For further information see IRS Publication 504, "Income Tax Deductions for Alimony Payments."

(Q.) Can I deduct a $75 campaign contribution I made to the recent political fund raising telethon?

(A.) You may deduct up to $100 ($200 on a joint return) for cash contributions to a national, state or local committee of a national political party, as long as the money is used to advance a candidate for elected office.

Cash contributions made directly to a candidate, campaign committee or newsletter fund during the year will qualify for the deduction if the candidates declare their candidacies by the end of the following calendar year. Again, the money must be used only to advance the campaign, nomination or election to public office.

You should have a written receipt or cancelled check to back up your claim, and itemize the deduction on Schedule A of Form 1040.

Instead of claiming a deduction, you have the option of using half your contribution as a direct credit against your tax. For further information see IRS Publication 585, "Voluntary tax Methods to Help Finance Political Campaigns."

(Q.) I take daily doses of vitamins and iron supplements to avoid colds and other sicknesses. Is the cost of these pills deductible as a medical expense?

(A.) If you are taking the vitamins and iron supplements only to preserve your general health, and not on your doctor's prescription or recommendation, the cost does not qualify as a medical expense.

Realtors' Essay Contest To Run Through Nov. 15

Sue Spires, chairman of the Pickaway County Board of Realtors' Bi-Centennial Celebration Committee announced today that the "Uncle Sam" essay will be held September 24 to November 15 in the local and county schools.

There will be a sixth grade essay contest with the students developing the theme "What Uncle Sam Means to Me."

The Pickaway County Board of Realtors will judge all the entries and the prizes for the winners will be a $50 U.S. Savings Bond for first place and $25 U.S. Savings Bond for the second place and third places for Honorable mention.

The local winners will also be forwarded to the Ohio Association of Realtors' headquarters for state-wide judging.

The complete contest rules will be available in all schools within the Board's Jurisdictional area.

American Businesses Go After Petrodollars

DUBAI, Union of Arab Emirates (AP) — Thousands of American industrialists, military advisers and arms salesmen storm ashore in the Persian Gulf each week in a business blitzkrieg to capture petrodollars.

Already 70,000 to 80,000 Americans live and work here in Dubai and five other oil-rich nations bordering the Gulf. Many are Vietnam veterans fresh from unemployment lines.

They fly the Shah of Iran's Boeing tankers, operate his helicopter school at Isfahan, teach infantry tactics to the Saudi Arabian national guard and show Bedouin cameleers how to fly fighter jets. They create whole new industrial cities and American-style suburbs out of sandy nothingness, train the pilots, stewardesses and baggage handlers for Iraq airlines, and equip and staff entire hospitals and medical schools. Among other bizarre undertakings, like providing phosphorescent safety jackets for camels crossing Abu Dhabi's new four-lane expressway, they have finished building a hotel in Mecca, Saudi Arabia, by remote control TV cameras because only true Moslem believers could visit the construction site in Islam's holiest city.

By the end of the decade, Pentagon officials predict, 150,000 Americans will be in the Gulf carrying out billions of dollars worth of arms contracts and billions more in economic projects that already have resulted in a U.S. trade surplus in the area despite the oil price increase.

"What Vietnam was to the Sixties, the Gulf has become to the Seventies," says chopper jockey Tom Forbes of Jacksonville, Fla., a Vietnam veteran teaching Iranian cadets to fly the Shah's 700 new helicopters. "It's where it's all at. The big difference here is that nobody's shooting at you. And, for a change, Uncle Sam isn't footing the bill."

Jobs are plentiful for semi-skilled hard hat or skilled white collar types.

Salaries for Americans range anywhere from $1,500 to $3,000 a month and in some cases housing and schooling allotments are made for families.

But prices are high. A small jar of peanut butter, for example, costs $5 in Iran and coffee is $8 a pound in Kuwait.

George Roche, a welder from Gary, Ind., said he saved up 19 unemployment checks for a ticket to Tehran, Iran. "I filed 12 applications, had nine interviews and got nine job offers. Several firms said they'd fly my family over, but I can't find an apartment here for under $1,000 a month with a sit down toilet." Roche plans to keep his shipyard job long enough to pay his return air fare.

The rental of a two-bedroom villa in Bahrain has tripled in price to $1,200 a month in the past year. The Tehran American School was launched in 1954 with 92 students. This fall it opens its doors to 3,000 and has plans to accommodate 5,000 students.

Congressional and other critics of U.S. arms sales in this highly volatile region fear the presence of thousands of Americans could trigger an incident that could involve the United States in a shooting war.

Industry's answer, like the Defense Department at most Washington hearings, is that the Gulf oilfields want American weapons and know-how and can afford it on an unprecedented scale that already is redeeming the U.S. recession-ridden economy. If spurned, the argument goes, they will shop elsewhere for their arms, in Britain or France, or even in the Soviet Union, losing the United States both a customer and a friend.

More than half the Americans now living in the heat and dust of the Gulf are advisers and technocrats directly involved with the $10 billion worth of U.S. arms peddled in the area since 1973, chiefly to Iran and Saudi Arabia.

Each week, sometimes three times a week, a chartered Boeing 707 leaves Fort Worth, Tex., for Iran bringing wives and children of the 1,600 Bell helicopter employees at Isfahan. Soon the fabled city of turquoise mosques, which already has a sizeable colony of Hughes electronics folk and Raytheon missile men, in addition to a Russian steel mill and a DuPont fibre plant, will be home for 1,400 Grumman aircraft employees and their families.

To house the burgeoning foreign colony, a satellite suburb is being built on the outskirts of Isfahan for 10,000 people. It is called Shahin Shahr, "City of Eagles."

It will be a typical American suburb with barbecue ovens on the lawn, motor bikes in the driveway and basketball hoops over the garage door.

For 160 years, right up until independence was granted in 1971, British officers of the famed Trucial Oman Scouts kept the peace in the feuding emirates of the Persian Gulf with a camel cavalry and a couple of dusty squad cars. Now even the smallest, richest city-state, like Abu Dhabi with its Rapier missiles and Mirage jets, wants to be its own version of a superpower. Kuwait, with squadrons of both U.S. Skyhawks and French Mirages, is in the market for TOW antitank missiles and other sophisticated systems.

The Shah of Iran, budgeting in the billions for defense, is determined to carry out his self-appointed role of policeman of the Gulf with the most modern weapons available.

Saudia Arabia has embarked on a 143 billion, five-year development program that will require importing two million foreign workers.

"We're not mercenaries," insisted Robert Williams of Bedford, Tex., president of Bell International, on a tour of the Isfahan helicopter base. "We're here to make peace not war."

Teays Valley Board Accepts Resignation

The Teays Valley Board of Education met in special session Tuesday night to accept the resignation of a teacher and to employ a replacement. The resignation of Mrs. Diana Fleser was accepted. She was a first grade teacher at Scioto School. The board employed Mrs. Jean Schwenning to fill that position.

In other action during the evening, the board granted three supplemental contracts to teachers for additional college credit. They were John Karg, high school teacher; Christine Engler, Ashville School teacher and Betty Stir, Scioto School teacher.

Ten requests for professional leave were approved during the meeting.

The resignation of Mrs. Doris Parsons, high school secretary, was also accepted effective Oct. 31.

Discussions were held on the need for a new gasoline tank at Scioto, enrollment at each school and the possibility of making a balance of enrollment.

The elimination of the honor roll was also discussed but the board felt that the present system should be continued and every effort be made to make consistent guidelines in each of the schools.

A long-standing policy of the board which prohibits raffles of any kind was discussed. The board voiced the basic feeling that the students in the district should not be involved.

The board feels that the adult booster groups and other indirect related school groups of that sort should have a project approved by the board and that raffles held by these groups should not involve students in any way.

The meeting was concluded with discussions on some of the payroll procedures regarding holiday and overtime pay and several maintenance items.

The board will meet in regular session on Oct. 27.

Police Wound Holdup Suspect

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Frank L. Norther, 21, of Cincinnati, was critically wounded by Cincinnati police who arrested three of his companions following a jewelry store holdup late Tuesday.

Police said a large amount of cash and jewelry was recovered from a car that struck a utility pole on Hamilton Avenue in the College Hill section. Police said the H.A. Schwartz Jewelry Store had been robbed by four men.

Police said the three other men were held for investigation.

Rudolf Hess 81; Still In Prison

BERLIN (AP) — Rudolf Hess, deputy fuhrer to Adolf Hitler during the Nazi era, is 81 years old and still behind bars.

Hess, the only Nazi war criminal in Spandau Prison for the past nine years, celebrated his birthday Tuesday. He was described as healthy by a British spokesman.

The British guarded Hess during September as part of the monthly rotation of American, French, Russian and British troops. The Americans, British and French have asked for Hess' release, but the Russians have refused to agree.

Exchange Program Brings 6 Students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Six industrial design students from Germany and their professor will arrive at Ohio State University on Thursday for an exchange program arranged by the Department of Industrial Design.

The students will study the university's approach to industrial design during their twoweek stay and make short trips to other Ohio cities.

Girls Represent LE At Ohio State Fair

By DEBBIE LECKRONE
This year, Debbie Leckrone, Pam Adams, and Cathy Watson represented the L.E. Band at the Ohio State Fair. Pam Adams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Adams and is a junior this year. Pam was a member of the "All Ohio Girls' Band" and played the Tenor Sax. She also plays the trombone in marching band, the bass clarinet in the concert band and tenor sax in the stage band. This is Pam's third year in the LE Band and her first year in the "All Ohio Girls' Band."

Cathy Watson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Watson and is also a junior. Cathy also was a member of the "All Ohio Girls' Band." She played clarinet while in the band. Cathy is a member of the LE Marching, concert, and stage bands. This is Cathy's third year with the LE band and her first with the "All Ohio Girls' Band."

Debbie Leckrone, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Leckrone is a senior. Debbie was a member of the "All Ohio Youth Symphony" and played the bassoon. She also plays the trombone in the marching band, tenor sax in the stage band and bassoon in the concert band. This is Debbie's first year in the "All Ohio Youth Symphony."

For those of you who aren't familiar with the Girls' Band they are a select group of applicants from all over Ohio. This year there were 2,300 applicants and 300 were selected.

The "All Ohio Youth Symphony" is a select group of 200 musicians. Nearly 3000 applicants were sent in and less than 200 were accepted. The Symphony is made up of juniors and seniors; graduates who play stringed instruments are also eligible and are usually invited back.

To be a member of either of the groups, you must be able to work hard because the average day's schedule is rise at 6 a.m.; breakfast, 7:15 a.m.; practice, 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.; lunch, 11:45 a.m.; practice, 1-4:45 p.m.; dinner at 5 p.m.; practice at 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., in rooms at 10:45, bed at 11:00 p.m. ("whew," what a day!), 10 hours of practice, approximately 3½ hours for meals and 45 minutes of free time!

After going through all this, the sound is spectacular. After returning home you're tired and sad to leave, but you know it's worth it.

Skandha Staff Named

By BARBARA BOLENDER
The 1975-76 Skandha Yearbook Staff is organized and ready to start another year of catching Logan Elm in pictures. The Staff was picked two weeks ago and under the direction of Co-Editors Beth Skinner and Barbara Bolender, and Advisor Mrs. A. Bigam, all are working for a bigger and better yearbook to hand to the student body.

The Co-Editors attended a seminar in Columbus concerning the big element of photography for a better yearbook. They received a lot of new ideas and helpful hints. Also the representative from Paragon Yearbooks, Mr. Wes Mirick, who has been helping the Skandha Staff for two years, will be

Hoffer Opens 5th Season With LE Golf Team

By WAYNE LINTHICUM
Logan Elm has entered its fifth golf season this fall under the direction of coach Harry Hoffer. Coach Hoffer is pleased with his team's performance for they are undefeated in three starts.

Hoffer has compiled a very respectable record at Logan Elm of 35 wins and 29 losses, including a fine 15-3 season in his third year.

When asked about his outlook on the season, Hoffer said, "If we play up to our potential, we can finish at third with Fairfield Union and Bloom-Carroll being the big obstacles in the Mid-State League."

Logan Elm is fielding a young team, with only two seniors, A.J. Kamler and Dave Anderson. The other three starters are Randy Watkins, Randy Pontius, and Jeff Kamler.

Also, LE has the largest reserve in its history with ten members. These reserves will play their own schedule.

With seven matches and three tournaments left to play, it looks like another winning year for Logan Elm golf.

English Teacher Featured

By BETH SKINNER
Our teacher feature this week is Mrs. Sudduth. She teaches Advanced Composition, English Literature, and Senior English. She also has one junior and one sophomore English class.

Mrs. Sudduth moved from Maryland but is originally from Circleville. Los Angeles, California, and Yuma, Arizona, are two other places where she has taught.

In her spare time, Mrs. Sudduth enjoys gardening, sewing, macrame, reading, and listening to music. She is also kept busy by taking care of her two sons.

Mrs. Sudduth said she enjoys teaching at Logan Elm because it is a small school and the students have known each other for many years and seem to feel comfortable around each other.

LE Football Team, Coach Optimistic

The Logan Elm Braves football team is again surrounded by much optimism this fall.

The Braves haven't experienced such a heavy loss by graduation as they have in recent years, and they return a solid nucleus of veterans to build with.

Led by senior co-captains Jeff Reichelderfer and Steve Rawlins, the Braves return 22 letterman, 17 of which are seniors. This should be a talented group for head coach, Perry Griffith, to work with.

Coach Griffith's varsity coaching staff this year includes Bill Frost and Stan Wilamowski along with excellent reserve coaches in Nick Damopoulos and Steve Barney.

The main idea in the Braves camp this year is pride.

Rice Prices To Remain Near Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — Experts in the Agriculture Department say rice farmers probably will not see much further increase in market prices this season because of improved world supplies and the record U.S. crop now being harvested.

"Early price quotes for 1975-crop rice are generally ranging from $9.50 to $10.50 per hundredweight, not too different from a year ago," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Tuesday in a preliminary report.

"But with part of the crop yet to be harvested and, with the world rice situation improved and with U.S. rice stocks expected to build, grower prices may not strengthen as they did a year ago. Thus, the season average prices to farmers likely will fall short of last year's $10.45 per hundredweight."

The report said, however, that domestic and export rice demand is expected to continue growing. Even so, USDA estimates pointing to a record rice crop of 124.8 million hundredweight, up 9 per cent from last year's harvest, indicate a further buildup of reserves at the end of 1975-76 marketing year next July 31.

Those supplies could rise to between 13.2 million and 20.1 million hundredweight, up from a carryover of 7.1 million at the start of this season.

Rhodes Drops Regents Threat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With the scales now tipped in his favor, Gov. James A. Rhodes has dropped his threat to eliminate or sharply curtail Mabel chose exactly the wrong instant to walk past the "DUNK THE CLOWN" booth at the county fair. A baseball, tossed at the target, sailed outside the booth and struck her in the back.

Painfully bruised, Mabel determined to claim damages from the management of the fair.

"All they had around this booth was a low fence," she pointed out in the courtroom. "That was no protection at all against a wild pitch. They should have had a screen or netting of some kind."

The court decided that Mabel had a legitimate complaint and was entitled to compensation. Bad throws by amateurs, said the court, were common enough for the management to foresee this kind of an accident and guard against it.

Proprietors at a fair are legally obliged to operate their amusement zone with due regard for the public safety. Furthermore, they must keep their facilities in good repair.

In another fairgrounds case, a youth approached the entrance to a scooter ride. But as he opened the gate it came loose from its hinges and fell on his foot.

Here too the victim won damages in court. Evidence showed that employees of the fair had failed to make regular inspections of the gate to see if it was in proper working order.

On the other hand, some mishaps fall into the "pure accident" category — hence cannot be laid at the door of the management.

At another ball-tossing booth a woman onlooker edged up behind a man getting ready to throw. As he wound up he unwittingly bumped his fist against her nose.

"This time, a court could find no basis for liability. The court said the management could not be expected to take precautions against a danger that was so plain for all to see."

A Pickaway County Bar Assn., an American Bar Association, and Ohio State Bar Association public service feature.

the Ohio Board of Regents.

The board, which Rhodes helped create in 1963, was one of his favorite targets during his campaign and the early days of the new administration.

Rhodes charged that the nine-member panel had gone beyond its statutory role to supervise planning and budgeting for state-supported institutions of higher learning.

The regents 1975-77 budget was cut, but the anticipated "ripper bill" was never introduced.

"There is no present plan to abolish the Board of Regents," the governor's executive assistant, Thomas J. Moyer, said in an interview. "He (Rhodes) still feels the board has a limited role to play."

Although Moyer denies that recent appointments have had any direct influence on the administration's view of the board, Rhodes appointees now hold a 5-4 margin over those named by former Gov. John J. Gilligan.

Rhodes filled three vacancies in September with William C. Safford, a Cincinnati insurance man, Marjorie E. Fawcett, wife of former Ohio State president Novice G. Fawcett, and James E. Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

Shocknessy, a Democrat, was a Rhodes appointee as a member of the board of trustees at Ohio State University. His term has expired.

Democrats still hold a 6-2 margin on the regents board, which clings doggedly to a nonpartisan image. One member, Donald L. Huber of Dayton, is an independent.

While Rhodes has softened his position, the higher education planners have come under new attack from the Cost Control Council, an independent study group created by Rhodes last February.

The cost experts have recommended that the legislature "conduct a comprehensive study of Ohio's system of higher education to develop a policy and administrative structure to maximize its effectiveness and economy."

In one of its reports, the cost council said the regents staff was "falling short of accomplishing" its objective to develop and implement longrange plans for colleges and universities.

"This is because of sustained opposition from the institutions," the report said.

William Coulter, deputy chancellor of the board, said the staff would "welcome" any legislative study. However, he said "we don't consider that there is sustained opposition from the institutions."

Coulter conceded that there had been resistance to some board policies, "but that's part of the process."

The regents' next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 17.

Grambling Remains Atop Football Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Grambling remains atop The Associated Press college division poll this week, but the Tigers' lead over second-place Western Kentucky slipped to a meager 19 points.
In balloting by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters, Grambling 3-0-0, which was idle last week, took 18 first-place votes out of 44 cast and had a total of 357 points. The Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky, a 30-3 winner over Austin Peay, got 11 first-place votes and 338 points.
Boise State, with four votes for No. 1, Texas A&I, with five, and Jackson State, with one, rounded out the top five, just as they did a week ago.
Idaho State and Eastern Kentucky held onto sixth and seventh places, respectively, meaning the top seven teams remained the same this week.
Northern Michigan, a 41-14 winner over Nebraska-Omaha last Saturday, advanced from 11th to eighth, while North Dakota State shot from 15th to ninth on the strength of a 49-7 victory over Morningside. Delaware, the only team in the top 10 with a loss, is 10th, down one spot from a week ago.
Rounding out the top 15 are Wittenberg, Henderson State, Montana, Ithaca and Abilene Christian.

Wittenberg slipped from eighth to 11th despite winning, Henderson State slipped from 10th to 12th and Abilene Christian fell from 14th to 15th after a narrow 24-21 loss to fourth-ranked Texas A&I.

Montana and Ithaca are the newcomers to the poll, and both made it on the strength of first-place votes. Montana got two and Ithaca one to put them ahead of teams which got more votes but fewer points.

Kevin McLain Named Lineman Of Week

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Studying the playbook on a Saturday afternoon prior to a night game is for mere mortals. Kevin McLain spent the day reading his Volkswagen auto repair manual.

"Got to do some work on my bus," the Colorado State linebacker explained.

But before he got around to the bus, he did some work on the New Mexico offense, spearheading a CSU defense that forced six turnovers and smothered the Lobo passing attack until the final quarter.

McLain's performance in the Rams' 27-16 triumph earned him the Associated Press national Lineman of the Week honors.

The New York Yankees were the first to go over the million mark in road attendance in 1975. They reached the figures July 22 in Chicago.

Meet The Tigers

John Frericks (68) and Brett Sherman (74) are sophomore members of the Circleville Tigers football team. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frericks, 573 Willow Lane. Brett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sherman, 555 Wilmar Drive.

Tough County Battles On Tap

All three county schools will be looking for a repeat of last Friday's performances when they all got untracked and rolled to impressive victories over some rough competition.

Logan Elm, coming off a 40-6 romp over Fairfield Union, will travel to Liberty Union to meet the Lions in a Mid-State encounter. Teays Valley, after ripping undefeated Olen tangy 18-0, will be seeking their second win of the season when they play host to Franklin Heights in a Metropolitan League battle.

Westfall, riding a four-game win streak after defeating Scioto Valley Conference rival Adena 20-13, will host Miller.

The big surprise came at Logan Elm when coach Perry Griffith felt it was time to make a change in an effort to get his club rolling — And roll they did.

He moved Bob Sargent into the quarterback spot and turned Jeff Reichelderfer into a running back post and what a job he did. Reichelderfer tore the Falcons apart as he ripped them for 288 yards, scored four touchdowns and a pair of two-point conversions.

But it was a complete team effort with fine blocking, good running by Steve Rawlins and Tim Justus and great defensive work by the entire Braves squad.

Logan Elm will be going to Liberty Union with a 2-2 mark for the season and 2-1 in league action.

The Lions are in a rebuilding year after losing a number of players from last year's squad but can be dangerous.

Coach Dick Kidwell also made some changes last week in an effort to get the Vikings untracked and it certainly paid off.

Not only did they beat the undefeated Braves, they blanked them.

The Vikings offense compiled a very impressive attack that netted them 294 yards but the defense was fantastic as they held the highly regarded Braves offense to a measly 35 total yards of offense.

The Vikings will get a real test Friday as they seek their second win

CHS Golfers Win Again

Circleville's golf team continued to roll right along Tuesday as they ran their season record to 16-1 with a 173-180 win over Hillsboro at the Elks Country Club.

Mike McCoy took medalist honors with a 41, Keith Sanders fired 42, Mike McKelvey carded 44, Dave DeFrank had 46 and Mike Hamilton tallied 52.

The Tigers are now 8-1 in South Central Ohio League competition and will host Wilmington and Grove City today at Pickaway Country Club. The junior varsity will travel to Grove City today.

LE Volleyball Team Loses To Amanda

The Logan Elm Volleyball team lost to Amanda-Clearcreek Tuesday.

The Braves won the first game of the varsity match, 16-14, but lost the second game 15-11 and the final game 15-5.

April Wilamowski scored nine points on serves for the Braves. The Aces should be one of the best teams in the Mid State according to LE coach Kathy Thompson.

It was Logan Elm's first loss in the Mid State in two starts. Overall they have won two and lost three.

The reserves were also defeated by Amanda-Clearcreek. They won the first game of the match, 15-12, lost the second game 15-11 and the third game 15-12.

The next action for the volleyball team is at Millersport Thursday.

Little Tigers Nip Blue Lions, 8-0

It was a real defensive battle all the way but Circleville's 7th grade team scored a touchdown with 1:30 left to play to take an 8-0 decision over Washington C.H. Tuesday on the Blue Lion's field.

Brad Fisher set up the touchdown drive when he returned a Lions punt to the Washington 25-yard line.

With Paul Leahy and Rod Bumgarner eating up yardage, the Tigers drove to the Lions 1-yard line and Brad Fisher smashed his way over. Paul Leahy carried over for a two-point conversion.

Circleville will host Washington C.H. Oct. 14.

Grid Tickets On Sale

Adult and student tickets for Friday's football game between Circleville and Greenfield will go on sale this afternoon at Bingman and Risch drug stores. They will remain on sale until 4 p.m. Friday.

Both adult and student tickets will also be on sale from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday at the high school.

Students tickets will be sold Friday at Circleville Junior High School and all city elementary schools.

There will be a limited number of reserve seats available at the gate Friday night.

BRAVES LEADERS—The Logan Elm Braves football squad got things underway last week and this could mean trouble for the rest of the teams in the Mid-State League.

Here are the men who are guiding the Braves team: from the left, head coach Perry Griffith, Steve Barney, Stan Wilamowski, Bill Frost and Nick Damopoulos.

against the Falcons who have been rated as one of the pre season favorites.

Coach John Glanton and his undefeated Mustangs will be playing an out of league encounter with Miller.

They will be going into the game after beating Adena who was one of the teams picked to win the SVC.

The Mustangs, injury list is dwindling and this will bolster the efforts and chances as things roll along.

John Long will lead the Mustangs ground game after turning in an exceptional performance against Adena. The brilliant Long ran for 206 yards scored three touchdowns and returned two kickoffs for 123 yards.

Ali Pounds Frazier For TKO

MANILA (AP) — It was a great fight, one of the greatest, brutally physical and gutty. The combatants—the stand-up matador with lightning reflexes and the charging, pursuing bull, his attack unrelenting—gave no quarter.

And at the end of it—after 42 incredible minutes of warfare, of intense battle among two bitter and familiar rivals—there stood Muhammad Ali, undisputed king of all he surveyed in boxing's heavyweight ranks.

The record books will record it simply: Ali over Joe Frazier, TKO, 14th round. But the cold statistics don't pay proper tribute to the durability and refusal to fold on the part of a great champion and the raw courage of the challenger.

"He could have whupped any fighter in the world, except me," a weary Ali said afterward. "He is great—he is greater than I thought. He is one hell of a fighter and it was one hell of a fight."

It was the third meeting between these two powerful black men—the champion out of Louisville, Ky., 33, a man who has been at center stage for 15 years now, and the challenger, 31, out of the Jim Crow South and a one-time slaughterhouse butcher in a Philadelphia ghetto.

Both of the early battles were slugging matches which went the limit—Frazier taking the first in 15 and Ali the second in 12—and this one went through 14 rounds with little to choose between them.

But in the 14th, drawing upon some mysterious source of strength after appearing on his last legs in the fight's middle rounds, Ali jarred Frazier's rock-like head with a sledgehammer right and sent the challenger's knees crumbling with a series of one-two punches to the head.

Before the bell could ring for the final round, Eddie Futch, Frazier's trainer, strode to the middle of the ring and told the Philippine referee, Carlos Padilla, Jr., that his man had had enough.

A loud roar of "Ali, Ali, Ali"—by now a universal chant—went up from the crowd 25,000 in the indoor Philippine Coliseum.

Frazier stood in his corner, a sad sight with a purple bruise under his right eye, a knot on his forehead and blood oozing between his teeth.

"Joe was taking some hard shots to the head and, in his condition, I thought he had no way to win the fight," Futch said afterward. "I didn't want him to get hurt."

Angelo Dundee, who has guided Ali's fortunes through 51 fights, all but two of them victories, said he thought Futch took wise and humane action. "I would have done the same thing," he said.

While handlers cut the gloves from Frazier's wrists and the referee screamed the announcement to the howling crowd, Muhammad Ali, actor, fighter and Muslim preacher, could not resist one final charade.

He took two steps away from his stool and did a swan dive to the blue canvas floor, lying there prone with arms outstretched as if he himself was in a faint.

Casey Stengel Farewells Set

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — Befitting his stature of baseball royalty, Casey Stengel will lie in state before burial in this Los Angeles suburb.

Arrangements for Stengel's funeral were completed Tuesday, amid a dramatic avalanche of tributes that continued to flood Glendale for the beloved "Old Professer" who died early Tuesday morning of cancer.

Often acclaimed as baseball's No. 1 goodwill ambassador, the colorful Stengel died at the age of 85 after an exquisitely rich career.

Funeral services for the Hall of Fame player and managerial great will be held next Monday at 1 p.m., PDT, at the Church of the Reconciliation in Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale.

Stengel requested before his death that in lieu of flowers charitable donations in his name could be made to the Association of Professional Baseball Players of America, 630 E. Wardlow Road, Long Beach, Calif. The association is a benefit group helping men formerly associated with baseball.

Stengel's body will lie in state on Sunday from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. at Sovern Mortuary in Glendale. Stengel is survived by his wife, Edna.

Among the host of eulogies for Stengel were tributes from high baseball officials, managers, players past and present and politicians, as well as close friends.

Jocko Conlan, the Hall of Fame umpire and longtime friend of the princely Stengel, commented: "He was not only colorful, but I think he and Babe Ruth have done more for baseball than anyone else."

Conlan, who played for baseball's grand old man at Toledo in 1930, added:

Among the officials who eulogized the onetime record-maker of the New York Yankees was Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. He acclaimed him a bona fide national hero.

"There has never been anyone like him," Kuhn said. "Casey was irrepressibly himself. But Casey left a nation that adored him and a host of memories so vivid and marvelous that we really can't ever lose him."

That majority opinion was also voiced by American League President Lee MacPhail, American League Chairman Joe Cronin, Hall of Famers Joe DiMaggio and Yogi Berra and Gov. Hugh Carey of New York.

"Casey Stengel was unique among baseball's folk heroes," said MacPhail. "His long career was a tribute to the very game he loved so much. Baseball and Casey were synonymous. We have lost a great and true friend, but his memory and contributions to the game and to our league will survive all of baseball's future years."

"Casey was one of a kind," said Cronin. "How fortunate we were to have had Casey around so long and what a contribution he made to both the major and minor leagues. We'll sure miss him."

DiMaggio, one of the all-star players who helped Stengel forge a record 10 pennants and seven World Series triumphs for the New York Yankees, said of his onetime field boss: "He was wonderful. He knew what to do with the talent he had. He understood his players. I enjoyed playing under him."

"Baseball lost a great man," said Berra, another former Yankee great. "He contributed a lot to the game. He was very good with the young players. He knew just who to play. About every move he made was right."

Nolan Cromwell AP Back Of The Week

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — When Kansas Coach Bud Moore announced last spring that starting free safety Nolan Cromwell would be shifted to quarterback, more than a few eyebrows were raised.

Cromwell answered those questions and more last Saturday when he romped for 294 yards on 28 carries in leading Kansas to a 20-0 victory over Oregon State.

Cromwell's performance set a National Collegiate Athletic Association record for singlegame rushing by a quarterback, broke running back Gale Sayers' single-game Jayhawk rushing record and won the young quarterback Associated Press award as National College Back of the Week.

Hayes Won't Keep Griffin In Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes vows he will not keep Archie Griffin in a ball game just to roll up impressive yardage figures for college football's Player of the Year in 1974.

"I will not. No, I will not," snapped Hayes when asked about keeping his vaunted tailback in a contest already won.

Griffin, bidding to become the first player ever to win two Heisman Trophies, has a string of 24 straight regular season games of 100 plus rushing yards.

He will risk that string against UCLA in a nationallytelevised game (ABC-TV, 9 p.m. EDT) Saturday in the Los Angeles Coliseum. The last time Griffin was held under 100 yards was against Southern California in the 1975 Rose Bowl setback.

"I'm not going to worry about that yardage thing. I'm not going to prejudice our chances of winning," said Hayes.

Then he hedged a bit.

"If a couple of more plays meant 100 yards for Arch, sure I'd do that. The kids want him to get it each game. You can't imagine how much the players respect him," said the hard-bitten Buckeyes' mentor.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pound senior has rushed 75 times for his 393 yards this fall, giving him 4,213 official career yards. He is 497 yards shy of tying the national career record Ed Marinaro of Cornell owns.

Joiner Sees Bengals Big Winners

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran wide receiver Charlie Joiner thinks the Cincinnati Bengals are capable of winning the American Football Conference Championship and denies that Sunday's game against his former teammates on the Houston Oilers means anything special.

"Houston is just one of the teams we've got to beat for the championship," Joiner said. "It's just a business."

Joiner alternates with Chip Myers spelling Isaac Curtis as the Bengals manipulate their corps of sticky-fingered pass receivers.

"We've got the experience, the youth, the right ingredients," said the seven-year professional. "It takes believing in the other players, working together and execution. If you put all that together, and keep the injuries down to a minimum, we've got a good shot at it."

Joiner said the league gets "tighter every year. New England can be real tough with Jim Plunkett back at quarterback. You know Buffalo is tough, the Jets look solid, Pittsburgh too. San Diego has a good offensive team. It's the same old thing — on any Sunday anybody can beat anybody."

"We've just got to stick to basic stuff and improve every week. What it's all about is execution. No race is certain for one team."

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You may feel the weight of pressure in certain occupational issues. Don't try to force your own views. Listen — and learn. Superiors will be impressed.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Some may encourage you to indulge in extravagance. If wise, however, you'll do some financial retrenching instead. A good day for projects which challenge your own creative resources.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Propitious influences dominate now, but you will accomplish much more through teamwork than going it alone. This is usually difficult for the Gemini but, at times, it has its merits.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): This type of day should be the just-right one for you. Where a project is pending, take the initiative if it will prevent loss of time or assets. Otherwise, you can "play it by ear."

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Superiors are now likely to be intrigued by your highly original ideas. In presenting, stress your innately dynamic approach.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A financial transaction could be highly profitable, but be sure you are aware of all the angles before signing on the dotted line. Romance favored.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): No day for a shy violet. Let others know you have something of value to offer. What has seemed out of reach is closer than you may imagine.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Not a good day in which to commit yourself to a long-range program — especially if finances are involved. Review your ability to make necessary payments — and act accordingly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Avoid tendencies toward overindulgence and contrariness. You can accomplish much if cooperative, and if you refuse to let frivolity interfere with necessary obligations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Some good luck in business interests indicated. This will, therefore, be an excellent period in which to evaluate your progress as of now and make new plans for the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): What you feel is in-tainty could be more of an illusion, so take a second look. Better to change plans now, if necessary, than to be sorry later.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Stress self-control AND self-reliance. Don't count too much on the cooperation of others. Plan a workable program and make all commitments judiciously.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with remarkable intuition, a warm, but not gushing, personality and great artistry — but of the mental or intellectual type, rather than the emotional. You attract friends easily and like to be with people, though you do your best planning in solitude. A constructive worker, with big ideas for attainment, you can make many come true through sheer, dogged persistence. Fields in which you could make your greatest success: the law, music, writing, painting, interior decorating, fashion design and the stage. Birthdate of: Graham Greene, author, playwright; Groucho Marx, famed comedian.

OAC Coaches Name Players Of Week

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A defensive back and a quarterback who each scored a touchdown last weekend drew the player of the week accolade this week from Ohio Athletic Conference coaches.

Otterbein quarterback Bill Hillier, a 5-foot-10 180-pounder from Mount Vernon who led his squad to its first victory over Capital in 12 years, was awarded the offensive player honors. Tim Carras of Baldwin-Wallace was the defensive player of the week.

Circle Bob Winner Of Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Circle Bob led all the way to capture the $4,000 featured eighth race at Latonia by a length Tuesday night in 1:48 1-5 for the mile and 1-16th.

The winner paid $10.60, $3 and $2.40. Rosette placed, paying $3 and $2.40 and Hint of Minx, was third at $2.60.

The 3-2 double of Arcade Karen and Blue Paradise returned $493.20. The crowd of 3,991 bet $381,066.

Six Penn State graduates are on the Nittany Lion coaching staff.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Televisa, Mexico's four-network commercial TV company, is a unique operation by U.S. standards. For one thing, only one cops and robbers show is allowed each night on any network.

For another, none of the Mexico City-based company's channels are programmed to compete against each other, says Miguel Aleman Jr., Televisa's executive vice-president.

Instead, he says, they try to complement each other with "horizontal" programming, letting viewers see on one channel what they might have missed on another channel the same night.

For example, a Mexican cultural program might be on one channel in the same hour a variety show is on another. But the cultural show would appear later that night on the second channel.

It's a far cry from the years before 1973, when Televisa was created through a merger of two companies — Telesistema Mexico, operating channels two, four and five, and Independent Mexican Television, operating channel eight.

"When we had the competition, the tone of the programs was going down, becoming vulgar and cheap," says Aleman, in town last week for an industry salute to Televisa executives.

"We were killing each other, fighting for ratings and not giving a damn about the public," added Fernando Azcarra, Televisa's operations director, the man in charge of all its programming.

They said the two companies grew so concerned about the video blight they formed Televisa, which Aleman calls a "permitted monopoly" to do something about the situation.

In this arrangement, Televisa operates, but doesn't own, the four networks — two of which are national networks and two are regional networks serving Mexico City and the Valley of Mexico, respectively.

Their only competition comes from two government-run channels.

Televisa pays no government license fees. Instead, it gives 12½ per cent of its daily air time to the government, Aleman says. It buys or produces programs for each Televisa channel.

Aleman, who estimates there are TV sets in at least 4.5 million homes in Mexico (compared with 69.6 million TVEquipped homes in the United States), says Televisa's creation has greatly helped the tone of Mexican TV by ending its dog-eat-dog competition for viewers.

He says that by this he means the fact that it allowed "horizontal" programming let the company put far more cultural and educational programming on commercial TV than was possible in past years.

Plastic bottle use for aspirin and aspirin-related products was nearly 200 million units in 1973, according to the Plastic Bottle Institute. Estimates are that this will reach 400 million by 1978.

Possession Of Marijuana Brings Charges

Nineteen-year-old Gregory Len Trammell, Middletown, was charged with the illegal possession of marijuana while being booked in at the Pickaway County Jail for two traffic citations, Tuesday evening.

Deputy J. Phillip Brown arrested Trammell for driving without an operator's permit and leaving the scene of an accident and had taken him to the jail for booking.

While searching Trammell for items not permitted in the jail cells, a plastic bag of marijuana was found in his jacket pocket.

Brown at that time charged him with possession of the hallucinogen.

Transportation will be furnished by the Red Cross. Those who are interested may secure more information by calling 474-5736.

Arts And Craft Show Planned At Old Man's Cave

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR), in cooperation with the Hocking Hills Artists and Craftsmen Association, is sponsoring the third annual Hocking Hills Arts and Crafts Show this weekend at Hocking Hills State Park.

Ralph Vanzant, Chief of ODNR's Division of Parks and Recreation, said nearly 40 artisans will participate Saturday and Sunday.

A variety of art forms will be displayed and offered for sale, including paintings, flower arrangements, quilts, needlework, woodcraft, sculpture and macrame.

The show will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days at the picnic area near Old Man's Cave. The park entrance to the cave is 12 miles southwest of Logan off State Route 664.

"An estimated 23,000 people visited Hocking Hills State Park during the two-day show last year, and we expect to see even more this year," Vanzant said.

Those attending this year's show also will be able to see the beginning of the park's brilliant fall colors and other attractions such as Cedar Falls, Rock House and Ash Cave.

County Receives ADC Payments

Pickaway County will receive $58,575 in the distribution of $33,357,566 in Aid to Dependent Children, according to State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

Ferguson said the amount does not include the weekly ADC auxiliary payments which will be made primarily to new recipients throughout the month.

Ferguson added that the ADC distribution does not reflect food stamp allowances to the recipients. The state welfare department distributes food stamps, and ADC payments to those recipients choosing to receive stamps are reduced accordingly.

ADC payments are made to families with one parent or one unemployed parent on the basis of family size and financial resources. The ADC program is funded primarily by federal and state governments.

Lancaster Man Pleads Innocent

Paul L. Dufner, 18, of Lancaster, entered an innocent plea Tuesday to charges of vehicular homicide.

He was arraigned in Lancaster Municipal Court on charges resulting from the death of Circleville Marine Recruiter Edward A. Kehoe, last Thursday in a traffic mishap on U.S. 22 near Delmont Road.

Dufner was released on a $1500 recognizance bond pending further court action.

Frost Creeps Way Into Great Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frost began creeping over the northern half of the Great Plains today, as a combination of mostly clear skies, fresh cold air and light winds dropped nighttime temperatures well below normal in much of the central part of the nation.

Frost or freeze warnings were posted in the Dakotas and western and central Nebraska.

Some showers and thunderstorms continued through the late nighttime hours from southern Illinois into southeast Kansas and southwest Oklahoma. Other thunderstorms spread slowly northward from the central Gulf Coast states and over southern Florida, and thunderstorm activity was reported just off the Georgia and Carolina coasts.

Isolated showers and thunderstorms were reported ending in parts of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, as well as in northern Wisconsin. They lingered in lower Michigan, however.

Considerable cloudiness was reported east of the Great Plains except for the mid and north Atlantic coast states where ground fog was forming early today. Clear skies were widespread from the Rockies westward except for some dense fog along parts of the California and southern Oregon coasts.

Late nighttime temperatures were in the 70s in Florida and the 60s around the rest of the Gulf and south Atlantic coasts. The mercury was in the 50s in much of the northeast with 20s and 30s in the Dakotas and Nebraska.

Meanwhile, Hurricane Gladys and its 100-mile-per-hour winds was reported about 350 miles east of the northernmost Bahamas islands, and continuing on a west-northwest path at 15 miles per hour.

The National Weather Service forecast for today included showers and thundershowers spreading along the central Gulf of Mexico coast through the southern Atlantic coast, along the west side of the Appalachians into the western Ohio Valley.

Temperatures were expected to be warm along the Pacific coast, hot in southeastern California, and warm over most of Florida. The forecast was for cool temperatures over the Great Lakes through the northern Plains, through most of the Rockies and the Mississippi Valley into the Ohio Valley. Elsewhere the prediction was for seasonably mild temperatures.
